Reds Threaten War With U.S. On Evacuation

Armed Provocations Charged by Peiping

LONDON (AP) — Peiping radio said tonight U.S. planes made 28 sorties today and intruded over Yikingshan, Tounsham and other islands and carried out "military provocations."

The radio said the Communist New China news agency was authorized "to declare that... if the U.S. Air Force ventures to intrude into China's territorial air again, the U.S. government must bear all the serious consequences arising therefrom."

By SPENCER MOOSA

TAIPEH (AP) — The evacuation of the Tachens proceeded today under the protection of the U.S. 7th Fleet, whose carrier pilots said they were fired on by Red anti-aircraft guns.

Red torpedo boats cruised 17 miles away but made no attempt to interfere with the task of bringing off 30,000 Nationalist soldiers and civilians.

First to leave the imperilled Tachens were civilians, most of whom were on Lower Tachen, the southern island of the group.

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Secretary Dulles told the Senate foreign relations committee today he doubts the Chinese Communists "really intend to wage war against the United States" over Formosa.

Communist artillery pointed at the Tachens from newly captured Yikingshan, only eight miles away and hundreds of Russian-built MIG-15 jets were poised on mainland bases but there was no report of interference.

Nationalist press reports said the evacuation of the Yu Shian islands, 35 miles northeast of the Tachens, and Pishan, 32 miles southwest of the Tachens, also had started.

FORMOSA CAPSULE

TAIPEH — Tachens evacuation begins under umbrella of 7th Fleet jets, U.S. Navy says. Red planes conspicuous by absence, but ack-ack on islets north of Tachens fired on U.S. aircraft. Chiang Kai-shek says Tachens withdrawal is "positive preparation for counter-attack against Red mainland."

PEIPING — China radio says U.S. aid in Tachens withdrawal is "war provocation... fraught with danger of starting a major war."

LONDON — Chinese Communist envoy interviews India's Nehru for second time in week, presumably about Formosa. Commonwealth premiers resume secret discussions on cease-fire moves. Eden makes new plea to Red China as British diplomatic quarters hint Russian has joined in Commonwealth efforts to bring about an "unwritten" cease-fire.

WASHINGTON — State Secretary Dulles confers repeatedly with President Eisenhower, British and New Zealand ambassadors.

UNITED NATIONS — Security Council starts new round of consultations about cease-fire despite Red China's rejection of New Zealand plan.

'Bear's Cage' Lures Fed-Up Pinay Back

Former Premier Has Until Thursday To Succeed Defeated Mendes-France

(From CP and UP Dispatches)

PARIS — Antoine Pinay, a Conservative who once said he would "never go back into that bear cage," sought support today for his second term as French premier.

The powerful Catholic Popular Republican Party refused to support him and it was believed the move may torpedo his chances of becoming premier as effectively as the same party toppled Premier Pierre Mendes-France from office.

The 63-year-old owner of a small-town tannery agreed Sunday night to try to form France's 21st postwar government, succeeding the cabinet of Pierre Mendes-France. Pinay told reporters he hoped to have his list of prospective ministers ready by Thursday.

One of the longer-lived of France's numerous postwar premiers, Pinay headed the government for 9½ months in 1952. He won considerable personal popularity with his "save the franc" fiscal policy, which checked rising prices though it did not solve France's basic economic ills. Facing three confidence votes and considered certain to lose all of them, he resigned Dec. 23, 1952, and vowed never again.

GIVEN FREEDOM OF LONDON

Eloquent PM Stirs Guildhall

LONDON (BUP) — With the time hallowed ceremonial of the heart of the Commonwealth Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent of Canada was today presented with the freedom of the City of London in the historic Guildhall.

It was an occasion carried through with all the tradition, color and panoply of an age long since dead, but which still remains alive here.

In it, the prime minister was set against a background of grey and some stone walls, of towering stained glass windows, of London aldermen in their scarlet beffored robes, and a gathering of spectators which included nearly all the prime ministers and other leading members of the delegations of all the Commonwealth countries who have been attending the present conference in London.

In one of the most eloquent addresses ever heard in the Guildhall on such an occasion, Mr. St. Laurent reflected the mood admirably.

Obviously deeply moved by the scene in which he was the principal character, and with an emotion unusual in his public

Pair Arrested For Daylight Job Two Doors From Bank

More than $6,000 was stolen from Victoria Press employees in a 20-second daylight hold-up outside a grocery store two doors from the Hillside branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia at 9.55 a.m. today. An additional $10,000 was missed.

At press time, two men were being held by police for questioning.

A suspected "get-away" car was followed through city streets by a young member of the Times women's department. She telephoned its license number and route to the police.

Victims of the robbery were Doug Griffith, 23, Victoria Press cashier, and Arnold John, 30, Times circulation clerk. They were carrying three bags containing weekend collections from the Victoria Press office, mostly consisting of carrier receipts, to the Hillside bank branch, about 200 yards away.

Two of the bags contained silver, cash and cheques totaling $6,413. The third contained $10,000 in cheques and currency.

WORE MASKS

As they came abreast of the grocery store, a green Mercury sedan pulled up and parked four feet from the curb. Two men jumped out, both wearing Halloween cardboard masks.

The taller of the two men shoved the barrel of a gun into Griffith's ribs and said "All right, let's have it."

Griffith saw only the barrel of the gun. "I didn't know what was going on," he said. "As soon as they jam a gun in your ribs, you don't worry whether they are kidding or not."

The hold-up men grabbed all three bags. But they threw the one containing $10,000 on the sidewalk, apparently thinking it was empty, jumped in the car, and drove off, turning east on Hillside.

Griffith and John rushed into the grocery store to phone police.

Dorothy Medrick, 25, clerk in the store, said she was dusting shelves when she saw a car pull up to the curb.

"I thought it was kind of funny the way the car parked," she said. "And then these two guys jumped out. The next thing I knew the two fellows from Victoria Press were running in shouting 'it's a hold-up,' and they phoned the police."

VATICAN CITY (UP) — Alling Pope Plus XII plans to preside at an extraordinary meeting of the Sacred Congregation of Rites Feb. 22. It will be the first time the 78-year-old pontiff has attended a church ceremony since his most recent serious illness began last November.

Soccer Replay Draw

MANCHESTER, Eng. (Reuters) — First Division Aston Villa, and Second Division Doncaster Rovers drew their second replay 1-1 here today in the fourth round of the Association Cup.

Plane Policy Changed

TORONTO (BUP) — Ontario hydro chairman Dr. Richard Hearn said today the commission would not replace the plane which crashed and killed his predecessor, Robert H. Saunders.

English Cricketers Win

YALLOURN, Australia (Reuters) — The English cricket team touring Australia beat a Victoria county team by an innings and 26 runs here on the final day of the two-day match.

"Terry and the Pirates" — Mmmmm.

Eventually them bandits will be clubbed to death with a dull heavy object—such as an eddy-torial on "Crime Does Not Pay."

One thing about Formosa: It takes two to make peace—but only one to make a war.

GIRL'S STORY

'SEEMS SILLY—BUT I CHASED THEM'

Terry French, 28-year-old girl reporter who has been on The Times staff for just six weeks, plunged into the newspaper business in a big way today when she followed a get-away car suspected in robbery. Here is her first person account of the chase through city streets.

Well, as blue Mondays go, this one was typical! I could think of nothing to liven up the day.

At 10 a.m. I left Victoria Press to go "Penny Saving" in my little "bumble-bee" (that's my '48 Austin Coach).

Suddenly, as I rounded the corner at Hillside and Douglas, I noticed a "suspicious" character getting into a double-parked light green Mercury.

He was carrying an odd-shaped bundle and was wearing a mask.

My imagination went to work. "Ah, bank robbers," I thought, "Thrills! Excitement!"

The car with two men in it passed me on the corner turning on to Hillside Avenue and although it seemed a little silly, I followed it.

Up Hillside to Wark Street, along Wark to Kings Road, to Blanshard and finally to Arena Way.

TAILED CLOSELY

My little "bumble-bee" tailed them closely right up to Arena Way. I was never more than half a block away from them.

At Arena Way, one of the men got out to change into the maroon car.

Apparently it had been parked on the boulevard, where so many hockey fans park, as a second "get-away" car.

I turned around, headed north, and waited at the intersection of Caledonia, as this was the only way they could have come—it's a one-way street and their car was headed out that way.

The maroon car passed me at the intersection and went up Caledonia to Quadra, and I followed.

He was driving carefully, as if to appear like a "normal" driver.

Hold-Up Took Place in Full View of Bus Travelers; One Took Getaway Car License

This morning's armed hold-up of two Victoria Press employees occurred before the amazed eyes of a busload of inbound passengers.

The 9.50 Burnside-Tillicum bus was coming around the Hillside Roundabout, turning on to Douglas Street when Mrs. J. G. Berryman, a school teacher at Cloverdale School, was the first to see the hold-up.

Mrs. Berryman told The Times "Just as we made the turn, my eyes were caught by a man wearing a bright orange mask. I shouted 'hold-up' and all the passengers looked out the windows of the bus."

Island Woman Sought

NANAIMO (BUP) — A search of Vancouver Island was started today for Mrs. Ralph Silvey, 24, who vanished last Tuesday after leaving her home on Thetis Island.

Mrs. Silvey disappeared while going to Ladysmith for a dental appointment. She was last seen wearing grey slacks and a green blouse.

"I saw the man with the mask come around in front of a parked car carrying a big brown canvas bag that looked like the kind of bag you carry water in."

"One of the women in the bus wrote down the license number of the car and another passenger, a man, got out and telephoned the police."

"I thought the bus driver could have stopped the men by blocking their car with the bus but he said he was worrying about the safety of the passengers in case the robbers should start shooting at us."

HUTCHISON FROM WASHINGTON

Ike's Power 'Frightening'

By BRUCE HUTCHISON
Editor of Victoria Daily Times

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The gulf between the British and the American systems of government never loomed wider than it does today. But it is a gulf of systems, not of policies or personalities.

Into the hands of President Eisenhower alone the American people have lately committed what the Founding Fathers called their lives, their fortunes and their sacred honor. True enough, that commitment is partly inherent in the constitution, but the constitution permits only the Congress to declare war. By almost unanimous vote of both houses Mr. Eisenhower has been given specific power to make war in Asia, declared or undeclared.

No nation under the British system would ever grant such unlimited power to any single man. A British or a Canadian prime minister must carry his cabinet with him, and the cabinet must carry the parliament. If a prime minister could not secure this support he would certainly be dismissed from office on an issue of life and death like the current crisis of Formosa.

Mr. Eisenhower, on the other hand, can do as he chooses, can decide whether to fight, when to fight and where to fight, and there is no power in the land, none, that can stop him.

The Congress cannot control his actions as they are taken. The cabinet here is not a body of equals or even the maker of policy but a group of non-elected advisers to whom the president may listen or not, as he pleases.

To anyone living under the British system therefore, the present concentration of power in one man, at a moment of supreme world crisis, is rather terrifying. Yet it is accepted almost without question in the United States almost but not quite.

The Senate gave a blank cheque in Asia to the President with only three dissenting votes, but among the Democrats at least, some men voted with grave misgivings. Nevertheless, they voted because, in this almost unprecedented dilemma, they could not bring themselves to divide the nation before the world. Thus the vast pyramid of power was finally built with the President at the apex.

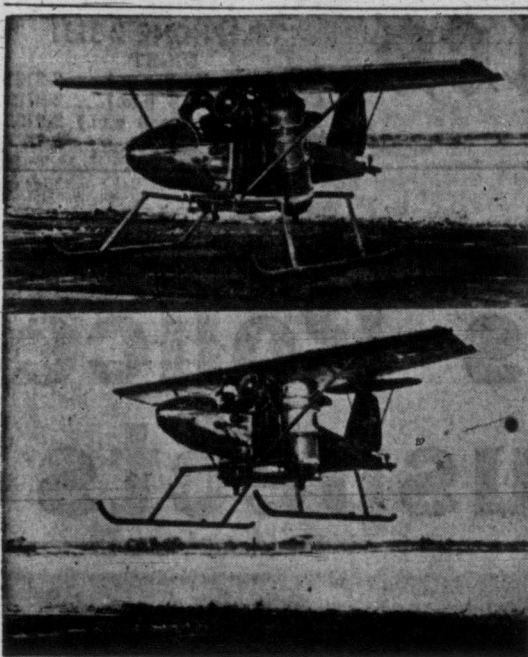

Nothing of that sort has happened in Britain since James II was hurled from the throne or in Canada since the days of Lord Durham. And thereby hangs a master piece of paradox and irony. In public theory the American

U.S. Jet Pilots Tell How They Downed Migs

Yellow Sea Fight Over in Seconds

TOKYO (AP) — Two American jet fighter pilots who shot down a pair of cannon-firing Russian-built Mig 15s over the Yellow Sea reaffirmed today what the world knew for a long time — that Sabre jets are far superior.

"The Mig's will never compare with the F-86 Sabre," said Lieut. Charles E. Salmon, 25, of Port Jervis, N.Y.

Capt. George F. Williams Jr., 31, of Austin, Tex., agreed.

Both pilots told a press conference of a five-minute battle with eight Mig's who jumped their patrol of 12 Sabres and an RB-45 reconnaissance bomber Saturday.

The fight erupted 10 miles off the North Korean coast and 40 miles southwest of Pyongyang, capital of Communist North Korea.

SAY NO DAMAGE

Both said there was no damage to any of the U.S. planes and they saw no markings on the attacking Red planes to identify them as Chinese, North Korean or Russian.

Williams said they had flown about 40 miles up the North Korean coast from their base at Osan and had turned south when the fight began.

"There was no warning," he said. "They came from above and behind us," and started firing.

Salmon took up the story: "I saw their tracers streaking past our plane, like red balls."

"They were firing from too far away. They dove past my flight and attacked the reconnaissance bomber. I rolled over on my back, slipped down to the left and rolled out on the tail of one of them. Both were firing at the RB-45."

"I fired five or six bursts and he started to smoke, he burst into flames and slipped off down toward the sea."

Williams, in a different flight of Sabres, told a similar story. He said he saw the leading Mig come in fast. "I broke to the left, and got in position. I opened up and hit him. He began to burn."

The American patrol continued on south and returned to its base. Williams rated the flying ability of the Mig pilots as "not so good," but added "they weren't really so poor; we're just pretty good — the 335th Fighter-Interceptor Squadron is the best in the world."

This is the squadron which shot down more than 200 Red planes in the Korean war.

Soviets Asked To Warn China

U.S.S.R. Approached by Britain To Urge Restraint on Peiping

LONDON (AP) — Foreign Secretary Eden said today Britain has asked the Soviet government to urge restraint on the Chinese Communists existing off the China coast.

Approaches were made Jan. 28 by the British ambassador in Moscow, Sir William Hayter, Eden told the House of Commons. Eden himself has seen the Soviet charge d'affaires here.

Eden refused to be drawn into a detailed discussion of the moves, saying:

"Conversations are taking place between a number of governments and diplomacy must be given its chance to do some work about this."

Eden rose in the House as news dispatches said Chinese Communist anti-aircraft guns had fired on American carrier-based jet planes screening the Nationalist evacuation of the Tachen Islands.

Regarding this evacuation, Eden said:

"The government shares the hope, which has been expressed by the United States government, that these steps will contribute to a cessation of Communist attacks and to the restoration of peace and security to the west Pacific."

Eden made his statement in answer to a series of questions from Labor members who have been critical of American policy in the Formosa question.

An uproar developed when the foreign secretary declined to express any opinion about Quemoy and Matsu Islands. Broadly, British policy favors turning over to the Communists islands such as the Tachens just off the Chinese coast, with Formosa and the Pescadores remaining in the hands of Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists.

announced Jan. 24 that it was planning sharp reductions in its transcontinental schedules beginning April 24. The CPR said its transcontinental schedule will be reduced 16 hours on the Montreal-Vancouver run, and 12 on the Vancouver-Montreal run.

The CNR will make the 2,930-mile Montreal-to-Vancouver run in 73 hours and 20 minutes, compared with the present 87 hours and 25 minutes. The Toronto-Vancouver run will be reduced 12 hours and 15 minutes from the present 83 hours. Eastward, the Vancouver-Montreal run will be made in 72 hours and five minutes, compared with the present 82 hours and 30 minutes. The Vancouver-Toronto run will be made in 69 hours, compared with the present 79 hours and 30 minutes.

The CPR will make its 2,881-mile Montreal-Vancouver run in 71 hours and 10 minutes, exactly 16 hours less than at present. Eastward, the new CPR time from Vancouver to Montreal will be 70 hours and 20 minutes, compared with the present 82 hours and 30 minutes.

When the CPR announcement was made, the CNR said only that it was planning a "considerable" reduction in the running time of its main transcontinental train.

CHANGES LISTED

The announcement today by CNR listed the actual changes planned.

The CNR's Super Continental will leave Montreal daily at 3:25 p.m. EST.

For example, a Monday train will leave Montreal at 3:25 p.m. and arrive in Ottawa at 5:35 p.m. That night the train will be consolidated at Capreol, Ont., with the Toronto section out of Union Station at 6 p.m. EST.

The consolidated train will arrive in Winnipeg at 10:30 p.m. Tuesday, establishing a record for train travel between the east and Winnipeg. The train will reach Saskatoon at 8:05 a.m. Wednesday, Edmonton at 3:25 p.m. and Jasper at 9:25 p.m. It will travel through the Fraser Canyon in daylight hours and arrive in Vancouver at 1:45 p.m. Thursday.

Eastward, the Super Continental will leave Vancouver daily at 2:15 p.m. PST, arrive at Jasper national park at 6:45 a.m. the following morning; Edmonton at 1:15 p.m. and Saskatoon at 8:25 p.m. It will be in Winnipeg the third day at 7:40 a.m., and Capreol the fourth morning at 6:25 a.m., arriving in Toronto that afternoon at 2:15 p.m., and Montreal at 5:20 p.m.

The eastward run is slower because of the sharper grades the trains have to climb after leaving Vancouver.

addresses, he gave the keynote of the ceremony in that part of his speech in which he said:

"I REMEMBER"

"I was brought up in a province of Canada whose motto is 'Je Me Souviens' — I Remember. We are sometimes chided in a new country for this backward glance."

"But when I come here today as the Prime Minister of Canada to accept the freedom of this great and ancient city, I feel that you and we are one in recognizing that our present and our future grow out of our histories and that we are all heirs to great traditions which it is our proud duty to remember and maintain."

Among the other Commonwealth representatives and leaders of British life who had gathered to do the Canadian prime minister honor were the following members of the cabinet: Lord Kilbride, the lord chancellor, Lord Woolton, chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster; Major Gwynn Lloyd George, home secretary, and a number of others. Sir Anthony Eden was to have been present but was unable to be there because of official business.

LEGISLATOR WOULD BAN IMPORT OF CANADIAN LIQUOR INTO U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Representative John Dingell (Dem., Mich.), said Sunday he will offer today a resolution to ban the importation of Canadian beer, whisky and wine into the United States.

His decision was prompted, he said, by his unsuccessful fight for the last three years to have Canadian tariffs on alcoholic beverages substantially lowered.

Dingell said in a statement he had worked with the U.S. state department "to try to persuade Canada to lower its tariffs on alcoholic beverages."

"Needless to say, the problem has not been solved—not a beaker of American beer, for example, has gone into Canada during the past three years."

In Montreal a spokesman for one of the large distilleries said he did not think Dingell's resolution would get very far.

"It's an oldie," he said. "The same suggestion has cropped up from time to time but it has never got beyond the talking stage."

They included Mr. Robert Menzies, Prime Minister of Australia; Mr. Sidney Holland, Prime Minister of New Zealand; Mr. Jawaharlal Nehru, Prime Minister of India; Sir Godfrey Huggins, Prime Minister of Rhodesia and Nyasaland; Sir John Kotelawala, Prime Minister of Ceylon, and Lester Pearson, Canadian Minister of External Affairs.

More than a thousand spectators watched the ceremony in the Guildhall. Millions more listened in to the broadcast by the BBC.

The spectators saw all the ancient pageantry of old London at its best.

The sombre grey stone walls of the Guildhall which have stood for several hundred years were lit by are lights for television and news-reels.

A bleak winter sun shone for a few moments only to outline the arms of the city of London set in the stained glass windows at either end of the hall.

Near the roof were vivid splashes of color from the admiral shields and bearings of the great ones of the city of London.

COURTNEY MAN STRANDED—Lieut.-Cmdr. Ron Heath of Courtney, is aboard the United States carrier Yorktown off Formosa. The Canadian pilot, shown on board the carrier, was on exchange duty with the U.S. navy when the carrier was diverted to Formosa.

The victim was brown-haired Anne Yarrow, 23, a quiet, deeply religious honor graduate of a North Carolina Quaker college. Her body was discovered in a dingy, sparsely furnished flat of a friend where the girl had gone 10 days ago because she "wanted to be alone" to forget an unhappy affair with a boy friend.

The tenement was on the fringe of Greenwich Village and a half-block from the Bowery, the city's "Street of Forgotten Men." It was in this area that Miss Yarrow had spent much of her time in the past year in preparing for a master's degree in psychology and sociology.

The murder occurred just one year to the day from that of Maxwell Bodenheim, the forlorn Greenwich Village poet and novelist who, with his wife, was murdered by a madman ex-convict.

Soak your plates in Polident daily to avoid "Denture Breath"

Polident is the specially designed cleanser that keeps false teeth—and breath—clean and fresh always. Follow these simple rules:

1. Never use a brush on them! Your denture plates are much softer than natural teeth. Brushing wears down fitting ridges so they get loose.

2. Never use soap or toothpaste! They can leave film which collects bacteria and food particles, a major cause of offensive "Denture Breath."

3. Use a cooling-type cleanser made for false teeth only... Polident! Polident is the denture cleanser recommended by more dentists than any other.

No brushing, no handling of soapy plates that can slip and break. Polident gets where a brush can't reach. Best of all, Polident always leaves false teeth odor-free. Get the world's largest selling denture cleanser, Polident, at your drug counter.

Sadistic Slayer of Co-Ed Sought In New York's Bohemian Haunts

NEW YORK (UP) — Police toured the haunts of Greenwich Village's Bohemian poets today in their search for the sadistic killer who raped, strangled and stabbed a pretty New York university co-ed in what a veteran officer described as this city's "most brutal" murder.

Soak your plates in Polident daily to avoid "Denture Breath"

Polident is the specially designed cleanser that keeps false teeth—and breath—clean and fresh always. Follow these simple rules:

1. Never use a brush on them! Your denture plates are much softer than natural teeth. Brushing wears down fitting ridges so they get loose.

2. Never use soap or toothpaste! They can leave film which collects bacteria and food particles, a major cause of offensive "Denture Breath."

3. Use a cooling-type cleanser made for false teeth only... Polident! Polident is the denture cleanser recommended by more dentists than any other.

No brushing, no handling of soapy plates that can slip and break. Polident gets where a brush can't reach. Best of all, Polident always leaves false teeth odor-free. Get the world's largest selling denture cleanser, Polident, at your drug counter.

Take New Look At U.S., Envoy Urges Canada

Heeneey Disparages
Snide Jealousies

MONTREAL (BUP)—A top diplomat said today that Canadians may be prejudiced about Americans because they feel they are engaged in a "somewhat unequal contest with the big fellow on the same street."

But Arnold Heeneey, Canada's ambassador to the United States, said Canadians should avoid the temptation to applaud "snide or distorted talk" often heard from foreign critics of the U.S.

"If we in Canada are to maintain with the United States our traditional relations of practical friendship and partnership," he told the Women's Canadian Club of Montreal, "we must do more to understand the Americans, their ways of doing things, their enthusiasms and their prejudices."

Heeneey, who has been Canada's envoy to Washington for the past 18 months, admitted frankly that, like most Canadians, "I was not unwilling to pass judgment on pretty well any feature of life in the United States" before his present assignment.

"Now . . . I am not at all sure that I was anything like as knowledgeable as I thought," Heeneey said.

The diplomat expressed the view that his new view might apply to Canadians generally.

Moreover, he said, Canadians had been encouraged in recent years "to take ourselves pretty seriously by flattering attentions paid us by other nations," including the U.S.

"These events have not improved our capacity for objective judgment," he added.

Heeneey said Canadians had long complained that Americans were ignorant of this country, but pointed out that such ignorance was "diminishing at an astonishing rate."

Sparkling Sand Lures Princess Into Swimsuit

ST. GEORGE'S ISLAND, Grenada (Reuters) — The sparkling sea and the inviting white sands of this Caribbean island may lure Princess Margaret into a swimsuit today for the first time since she arrived in the British West Indies.

The fun-loving British princess has a break between a luncheon and an eight o'clock dinner-reception during which she can splash to her heart's content.

But duty will come before any sun bathing. This morning she was to step ashore from the royal yacht Britannia to open a radio station connecting the four Windward Islands of Grenada, St. Vincent, St. Lucia and Dominica.

At Queen's Park, named for Queen Victoria, Margaret's great-grandmother, the 24-year-old princess will address several thousands islanders as she declares the radio service open. The radio station will broadcast her speech.

The Princess got caught in a tropical show Sunday night during a garden party in this sugar and spice island of the Windward Islands.

She was in the centre of a sunken tennis court when the rain came pouring down, soaking many of the several hundred guests at a party celebrating her arrival.

Three umbrellas were quickly offered her, and she ducked under one of them, held by a police officer. Then the princess walked slowly down the garden path to the shelter of the house.

Lady Elizabeth Cavendish and Iris Peake, members of the princess's entourage, quickly donned raincoats, but many of the women, in light summer dresses, were drenched.

Grenada is the third stop on the princess's current one-month tour of the British West Indies, which began in Trinidad last week.

GOING TO UBC — Kathy Archibald, Miss Canada of 1953, has announced she has given up the idea of becoming a veterinarian and plans to return home to enter the University of British Columbia as a freshman next fall.

Korea Wounded Death Rate Half That of 2nd World War

MONTREAL (CP)—The mortality rate for Canadian soldiers was 66 deaths for 1,000 Canadian wounded in the Korean war, was almost half that of the Second World War rate and one-third the First World War rate, the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps reports.

In an article in the current issue of the Canadian Medical Association Journal, the corps said mortality in Korea was 34 for every 1,000 wounded. In the Second World War the rate was 66 deaths for 1,000 Canadian wounded and 114 per 1,000 in the First World War.

Princess' New Hair-Do Makes Hit

Princess Margaret caught in pensive mood as she presided at state dinner in Port of Spain, Trinidad. Her new 18th century, French-style hair-do and lovely white silk organza evening gown caused mild sensation among fashion-conscious guests.

Minister's 'Dry' Navy Proposal Widely Supported

HALIFAX (CP)—A 44-year-old Baptist minister here said Sunday he has been swamped by such favorable reaction to his demand for a liquor-less navy that he has decided to pursue his campaign indefinitely.

Rev. Abner Langley of West End Baptist Church said his plea from the pulpit a week previously for a Canadian navy as dry as its United States counterpart was supported by "college professors, college presidents and even naval officials, commanders and so on." He gave no names.

In his Jan. 30 sermon Mr. Langley said a clandestine methyl alcohol binge the week before aboard the aircraft carrier Magnificent illustrated the pressing need for "drying up" the navy which currently does out a daily rum ration to ratings who want it.

The sermon contained a demand that the government establish a civilian commission to find out if officers were setting the right example for the men. The pastor also said citizens "should join in demanding a dry navy for Canada."

France Runs to Form

PREMIER MENDES-FRANCE has followed his predecessors into defeat. France's allies are left with the feeling that they were negotiating with a man who could sit competently at a conference table but who had been forced by his country to occupy a flying trapeze.

The pattern is dreadfully familiar. But in the overthrow of Premier Mendes-France the western world recognizes the loss on an able, serious and dynamic figure. His successes had been spectacular. That, according to some views, has been his weakness. Opponents, certain observers believe, could not forgive his accomplishments.

The premier's defeat was not unexpected. To maintain a precarious political balance he had taken into his cabinet a leading Gaullist, hoping thereby to ensure for himself a sufficient following in that party to carry on his important work. The action caused friction within the ranks of his own Radical Socialists. The North African debate was to be the test of the accommodation he had made. So it proved to be, and the arrangement failed.

At this point it is difficult to estimate what effect the French government's overthrow will have on the completion of European defense plans. Certainly the early reaction in West Germany was gloomy. Britain has expressed shock. Some satisfaction has been shown by East Germany and Moscow doubtless finds the occasion gratifying.

But if the loss of his personal leadership is serious, it should be apparent that his accomplishments will not be brushed aside. In the arrangement for entering the European defense organization, his arguments remain strong and conclusive. They did not assume that France would welcome any direct association with an armed Germany, but they did point out that Germany would be armed eventually and they sought to establish as favorable terms as possible for France in the face of that inevitable development.

It is significant that Premier Mendes-France did not fall on the main issues which have occupied the attention of the western allies. Though there is international interest in the North Africa, it has not, at this date, become a point of critical concern to them.

That does not, of course, minimize the loss to them of a French leader who appeared to have the power to speak for his country—who, if he could not be the representative of a stable nation because of that nation's politics, had at least been able to make particular commitments at the conference table.

The western world waits now to see how far a successor can go in giving French assurances to partners among the free nations who stand against the constant pressure of communism. The outlook, though it may be temporary, is not too encouraging.

Let's Have a Hansard

MR. RAE EDDIE, THE CCF member for New Westminster, is to be commended for renewing his efforts to have an official record, or Hansard, established in the provincial House.

At present, the most complete job of reporting debates in the House is done by the newspapers, but these of necessity must be condensed. Reporters are not stenographers, but this is a good thing; a stenographic report of the day's debate could have amazing effects on parties as they now conduct themselves.

Nevertheless, as Mr. Eddie observes, there is need for an official record. This is the day-to-day history of the province's legislation. It is invaluable for reference and study.

Also, it would tend to raise the tone of debate. At present there is a great deal of sloppy usage, of perambulating verbiage, of reckless ad-libbing, which adds little to the conduct of our affairs. If members knew that their words were being recorded, they might come into the House with a little more careful preparation, a keener appreciation of the rules of grammatical construction, and a wariness of the extravagant utterance which will not bear close scrutiny.

Such a record would, of course, be available to all members of the public (the fee for Ottawa's Hansard is $3 a session) and would thus afford voters a chance to study the performance of their respective members, and keep informed on the progress of their affairs.

Finally, a Hansard would tend to check the "I-was-misquoted" plea, which has become something of a joke in the House. We should have the debate on the record, for all to see.

The Violin Is Laid Aside

IN THIS PROLONGED SEASON of 80th birthday observances by international figures, the comments of Fritz Kreisler stand with an engaging frankness of their own.

At an even four score years, he feels "like an Egyptian soul who sees his mummified corpse going down the river."

A man with an imagination lively enough to conjure up that simile is a long way from senility—a fact further proved by his lively interest in the events of the day, in the presentation of fresh ideas on music and in general mental alertness.

A great artist makes his joke and a world which appreciates the enjoyment he has given to it recognizes in the vivid comment his view of the years behind.

Looking back he may regain in retrospect some of the satisfactions which come to a man pre-eminent in his musical field, and some of the memories of a career that ranged from high triumph on the concert stage to near death on the battlefield.

He no longer plays in public. But if his violin is idle, a generation which knows him better by reputation than by performance can reput itself fortunate to have such a personality still among the living.

The Council and the Courts

ALDERMAN MILLARD MOONEY has shown an honest appreciation of the duties of one of his offices and their limitations.

As chairman of what is called the justice committee appointed by the mayor, Alderman Mooney says "We are not going to interfere with magistrate's or judge's decisions." Obviously no city committee has power to interfere with the courts, but because of an unusual juvenile court discussion in the City Council last year it is reassuring to know that the special committee understands that point.

It is to be hoped this expression of opinion will put an end to any suggestion of intrusion by the council into judicial affairs which are not its business.

Dogs and Drawing Pins

BY MARGARET ROBBINS, From London

SHOPPING in a strange city is always difficult but the North American in London faces special problems. Used to the large chain stores which carry everything, the shopper is a little bewildered by the multiplicity of shops selling only one thing.

Mind you it is rather pleasant to go into a "chemist's" shop and find only drugs, not cigarettes, magazines, soda fountains. But it is a little disconcerting to ask your butcher for bacon and be answered with an emphatic, "But of course, we only carry meat."

All this makes for delay and shopping can be a lengthy process, particularly if you make the mistake of going between 1 and 2.30. No matter how many employees were in these small shops, they all go to lunch at the same time and the customer is met with a drawn blind.

The North American is also horrified by the lack of hygiene. It is rather startling to find the fish (at a bewildering and exciting variety) exposed to the public gaze, completely uncovered, unscreened, almost on the sidewalk. This in itself shocks one used to refrigeration, cellophane, special packaging. Add to this the dogs and it is easy to understand why this household uses more canned goods than ever before.

Londoners are maddened about dogs; they are allowed to enter almost all food stores and restaurants; they are completely uninhibited; and nobody does anything about it. Once or twice I felt that amicable relations between Canada and the Mother Country were going to be broken but I swallowed my wrath and took a can of pork and beans instead.

Packaging presents another fascinating contrast. All biscuits are sold in wrappings which must have been designed for a safari in darkest Central Africa, where they would have to withstand tropical rains, mildew, rot and months of exposure. On the other hand bread is wrapped only round the middle with the thinnest of tissue paper. With this clutched in your hands you go out into London's drizzle and smog, hoping to reach home with a loaf, not a sodden dirty mass.

Taking It Out of Reach

Chips

BY DAVID BROCK

JUST before Christmas there ended in Vancouver an exhibition of "modern" art, mostly extremist abstractions of 40 years ago. These paintings were worth a lot of money, in the present market, and were loaned by the Guggenheim Museum of New York. What you mean by "a lot of money" can have various meanings, of course.

I went to the Vancouver Art Gallery on a Sunday, when I suppose no admission could legally be charged, and it was suggested to me by a sign on a table that I should make a voluntary donation of six dollars as a token of gratitude from my wife and four children and myself. I prefer abstract signs to cheaply realistic ones.

This seemed like a lot of money to me and it still does. Not that I took the sign too literally. I didn't let it abstract the full sum from me. I am very fond of children, so I let some of the children in free.

NOT only did I refrain from charging all the kids a dollar each, but I felt like paying one of them for cheering me up. On the way to the gallery she asked me "Am I allowed to laugh at pictures if I feel like it?" I said there were no laws on this subject, but custom required her not to laugh aloud. Custom even requested her not to double up with one hand on her upper abdomen and the other hand waving feebly in the air, the palm outward.

She took this gloomily. "What are we supposed to do?" she asked. "Give three cheers?" I said cheering, even if sincere (which is the great thing in Art), would get her slung out of the gallery. And she had nearly been slung out of that place twice before. . . once for throwing hats down on people from upstairs, and once for breaking into a room marked MEMBERS ONLY and getting underneath a sofa and yelling.

WELL, Vancouver took this exhibition in a variety of ways, most of them predictable. (I refer to the paintings, not to my daughter's emotional problems.) Not nearly enough people took this protective attitude: "Well, of course it was so frightfully Edwardian, wasn't it? But my mother would have loved it. Period piece, don't you think?"

This sort of talk was calculated to hold down any enthusiasm. And on one occasion I know for a fact it did. Beautifully. Most people just said "Oo, ah!" in awe, or "Oo, er" in doubt, or "Oof" in disgust. And quite a few laughed, not being so well-bred as my daughter, or not having their fathers with them.

Now, Vancouver has a way of being about fifty years behind the times in certain matters. (Like Victoria; or unlike Victoria. . . take your pick. Take your shovel too and see if I care.) For example, it doesn't know that Tennyson and Kipling and other period pieces are now considered quite readable again, and it is still busy shuddering about their daring to be born when they were.

IT is busy getting itself ready to fight to death against (or for) fashions which died long ago. It is carefully preparing a decent burial for fashions that have already come to life again elsewhere. . . or that can never die, not being mere fads at all.

And being a little behind the times, certain jesters treated these ex-novelties (or, if you prefer, these historical and epoch-making canvases) as the latest nonsense. This was a mistake in tactics, if nothing else. Other mistakes were made, too. One newspaper printed, as a joke, a reproduction of a work by Miro which deserved to be taken very seriously indeed. It was (and is) crammed solid with Old Man Psychopathia Sexualis, and I only wish I could tell you a few details in a medical journal, not a family one. I also wish I were Miro's fellow Spaniard, Dr. Lafora, who found such paintings and drawings of the greatest help in diagnosing his psychopathic patients. Somebody has stolen my copy of Lafora's book. It is worth stealing. Anyone who steals it is quite sane.

LAFORA, by the way, found the diagnosis of his patients, and of certain commercially successful extremists, was only interesting and useful if the pictures were sincere. If a man was only copying the fashion, he was only pretending to exhibit symptoms of this or that mental disease. Still, it might be interesting to examine once more the good old question of to what extent a man becomes the thing he pretends to be. And to what extent it is sane to pretend to be mad. For example, if a man thought it would be amusing or lucrative to spend a night inside a tomb, with only a corpse for company, and if he decided to while away the long night by howling like a wolf, there might well be two schools of thought about him by morning, though he was technically sane and even cold sober at nightfall.

As I was saying, the newspapers laughed, as at a novelty. Myself, I don't see why you can't laugh at a 1914 painting, really. You can laugh at 1884 Gilbert and Sullivan, and still find it fresh. Provided you don't hail it as a fresh discovery.

WELL, an artist wrote to one of the papers and more or less indicated that nobody should laugh at anything for being fairly new, though it is presumably all right to laugh at anything for being fairly old. Further, he indicated that it is not in order for anyone on the staff of a newspaper to hold a low opinion of extremist art, with the exception of its art critic. Though presumably it would be all right for the staff to hold a high opinion of extremist art, or a low opinion of anything prior to a date to be computed by the pundits.

If the mandarins want to censor laughter, and turn art galleries into churches, they needn't look at my daughter Phoebe. And they needn't think I am laughing at them, let alone at the picture. I am disappointed in them. I want to see them pass a still stricter law, which will forbid anyone but a painter or critic to buy the paintings in question. That would perfect their air-conditioned privacy and thought-control.

DENNIS THE MENACE

"IF NOTHING HAPPENS TO ME, NOTHING WILL HAPPEN TO YOU, OKAY?"

U.S. Look at Schools

BY WALTER LIPPMAN, From Washington

EVERYONE who has paid any attention to the condition of the public schools in the United States knows that they are in serious trouble. They are being called upon to do more and more. They do not have the resources, the money, the buildings, the facilities, the teachers to do what they are expected to do.

There are, it is estimated, about 700,000 pupils who are being deprived of full-time schooling. There are not enough classrooms and not enough teachers. More than a million and a half children go to school in rented garages, churches, barracks, and other makeshift quarters. The number of pupils in one class that a teacher can teach effectively is generally put at a maximum of thirty. Yet it is reliably estimated that there are more than this maximum number in at least half the classes in the country, and there are a large number with as many as fifty or sixty pupils per teacher.

The general picture is that of a nation which has outgrown the capacity of its school system. This enormous growth and change, which has been very rapid in the past thirty years, raises formidable problems of how to educate adequately such a rapidly increasing number of children.

REAPPRAISAL

The whole educational community is engaged in a continuing reappraisal of its functions. Many of the problems of adapting education to the modern world are complex and controversial—particularly as they have to do with how to teach and with what to teach. Here there are differing views and one cannot generalize and be dogmatic. But there is a fundamental condition on which there can in fact be no dispute. It is that the American system of public education is now out of scale with the educational needs of the country. The money and the public effort which we are putting into the public school system are on the scale of an earlier age. They do not permit the schools to keep pace with the growth of the population, with the change in the American ways of life, and with the new position of this country in the world.

The simplest way to visualize the overall problem of scale is to remember how we have changed our way of thinking about national defense and about public highways. Since the beginning, the country has always maintained armed forces. It has always built roads. But if we compare the military budget today with the budget on the eve of the Second World War, the difference in the amount is a difference not merely in degree but in kind. There has been radical change in our whole conception of the scale of our national defense, and of its relation to whatever else the nation does. We have gone through a smaller but a simpler change of attitude towards the public highways, having been compelled by the automobile to raise our effort to a scale of expenditures undreamed of in the horse and buggy days.

MONEY

We have come into a time when we shall have to make a comparable change in our thinking about what we need to spend on education, what we believe we can afford to spend on education. At a very conservative estimate in the next 10 years we shall have to double the amount spent each year on the public schools. We shall have to go up from the $10,000,000,000 spent now to around $20,000,000,000.

That is, as compared with the national defense, a modest amount of money. But it is still a large sum, and almost certainly it is too large if it has to be borne wholly or in the main by the states and localities. As we go into the matter closely there will be little doubt at the end of the argument that we have no choice as to how to finance the educational deficit. We shall have to turn to the federal government. For it alone has the capacity to raise the necessary revenues.

It goes without saying that we shall not solve our educational problems merely by spending more money. We shall not make the schools adequate only by putting up new buildings. We shall not solve the problem of the shortage of teachers only by offering more pay; we shall have also to give to the teaching profession the attractiveness and the dignity which in the American tradition it is supposed to have.

FINANCIAL BASE

Though we cannot solve all the problems with more money, that is no excuse for failing to meet the gross, material, obvious deficiencies which can be cured and have to be cured with money. We shall never have the chance to solve the other, and higher problems of our schools if we allow them to become more and more overcrowded, if we allow the teachers to become more and more overworked, if we allow the educational community to become more and more overwhelmed and discouraged.

The material and quantitative problems will have to be brought under control if we are to face lucidly and calmly and productively the problems of purpose and the problems of quality in the education of children for the modern age.

As Our Readers See It

GIVE IT A TRIAL

Your correspondent, Mr. L. J. Pepper, is to be greatly commended for his style and aptness in compiling his letters. He is, no doubt, a great scholar. Whereas, I, having to leave school at the age of 11 to help to feed hungry mouths, am ill equipped to write even my own name!

Mr. Pepper says in his letter in "The Times" of Thursday, February 3, that our boasted "Christianity," our religions, etc., "are mere fog and not really worth a single dime." Mr. Pepper surely knows that our "boasted Christianity," as he calls it, has never been tried out!

Real Christianity has never been put into operation on this earth and I challenge Mr. Pepper or anyone else to prove that it has! Real Christianity is something that has to be practiced and lived. God has a plan for this world! And if there is such a thing as cause and effect, then the very conditions of crisis that exist all about us are trying out that God's plan. Has been pushed into the background! As a matter of fact we are soon to accept God's plan as the only alternative to total extermination! Christianity has never yet been tried out. Let us have fair play.

TOM JOLLY,

3817 Cadboro Bay.

SECRECY AND DEFACTION

Honest people who object to the Mayor's policy of secrecy should reflect that if defamatory letters to the Council were made public, this would provide a good opening for McCarthy's smear campaign.

Dr. Giovando's apparently persistent urge to flout the law in the interests of welfare looks fishy to me.

If the law were a hindrance, why does he not honestly attempt to get it changed?

In some cases contempt for law can symbolize incipient fascism.

As to history of British law, I wish I knew who was the man unlucky enough to be England's Lord Chancellor when Dickens' "Bleak House" was first published, and how his lordship reacted, and whether the subsequent law reform following Charles Dickens' devastating blasts at England's Courts of Chancery was speedy or slow, and whether the book critics commented freely about "Bleak House" or did they take Carlyle's advice that "over hot coals you cannot glide too fast?"

GLADYS SHRAPNEL.

1578 Clive Drive.

LIONS GATE BRIDGE

Apparently, running true to form, Premier Bennett again casts deceptively spurious remarks against a former Liberal government.

In announcing that the Secord government had purchased the Lions Gate Bridge he is reported in the press as saying, "We got all the rights back for the people that were given to the company by the old Liberal government."

Mr. Bennett's inference of course, is to convey in the public mind that a former Liberal government had given all the people's rights away.

Mr. Editor, would it not be timely for your newspaper, the Times, to give the public some history about the Lions Gate Bridge and the "former Liberal government" who made that magnificent bridge possible?

1031 Chamberlain, Victoria.

WHY BUY CIVIL DEFENSE?

Montreal like Coventry has decided not to spend money on civil defense. How sensible of them.

Why pay salaries, traveling expenses, cost of automobiles to a number of retired officers, whom we are paying good pensions? Are not the enormous sums we are spending on the air force, army, navy and Red Cross enough?

Our leaders have repeatedly told us the probability of another world war is remote as long as the free world has a plentiful supply of super bombs and a powerful air force.

CLEAN UP

What is wrong with our city fathers, police and fire officials, who have been informed several times about a junk yard which is jammed with neighbors' fences with rusty cars and trucks? Not content with the yard, the sidewalk is being brought into service.

It is high time this disgraceful fire trap is cleaned up. Why tell us to have citizens' cleaning-up week, when our city officials do not set the example in our residential part of the city?

Baby Chicks

HARRY is a bullet-headed little boy with dark eyes, squarish hands and a voice that is often rather rough and hoarse. He's about seven, I guess, and lives in a frame house with a tiny yard in the city.

Right now his Dad isn't working because his shift was laid off just before Christmas. Pickings have been pretty slim since then. But they get by because Grandma and Grandpa live on a small farm up-Island and, what with their old age pensions, and their vegetable patch and the chickens, they manage quite well, and always have a boiling fowl or some fruit or vegetables for the city son and his family.

And last Saturday, Harry went up to Grandpa's with the man who was taking up 230 day-old baby chicks.

They went out to the hatchery first and picked up the four flat cardboard boxes of chicks. Each box was about two feet square and divided into four compartments. And this time, all the chicks were yellow. (Last time, Grandpa got them kinda mixed, black and brown and yellow.)

Harry was allowed to punch out a few more of the perforated circles made for air holes. Not too many, he was told, because baby chicks mustn't catch a chill. But they must have ventilation because they have a lot of what's called body heat.

And while they waited for the ferry, Harry lifted the lid of one of the boxes, and put his hand gently on the soft, chirping mass of chicks.

They were just as warm and soft as his rabbit used to be. Only his rabbit died six months ago. ("It was a girl rabbit and I laid six babies and then it died!")

And when they got to Grandma's, Harry helped to put the chicks in the brooder house. He's done this before, so he knows that you don't just tilt the boxes and dump them out. You take them gently, one by one. And you hold them firmly, but you mustn't squeeze. And each of the 250 baby chicks must have its beak dipped in a dish of water.

Some don't want to drink, but most of them take a good big sip, and lift their heads just like grown-up chickens do.

And Grandma's very fussy about this part of getting baby chicks. She says it's plain natural they are thirsty after a trip, and if she gives them a drink right away, they'll begin to eat that much faster. And the more they eat, says Grandma, the bigger and faster they will grow.

It was kind of nice in the brooder house, Harry says. Grandma opens up the paper wheat-sacks and spreads the thick, clean, brown paper on the floor. And there's a little sort of fence so the chicks can't get too far away from the heating lamp. The thermometer said it was 100 degrees down by the floor, so the chicks were just as warm as warm could be. And some of them were fighting already, and some were just standing and stretching out their wings.

And you have to be a bit careful when you go to Harry's house these days, because, once he's started on the baby chick story, it's pretty hard to get away!

YOUR HEALTH

By DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ

New Polio Research

Dr. Alvarez is Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation.

A WHILE ago an antivivisectionist gave me a good scolding because, to his way of thinking, a certain bit of laboratory research had been useless and stupid and even criminal. My answer was that no one can ever be sure that a bit of information gained in a laboratory somewhere will be useless. It is perfectly possible all ways that a small, apparently inconsequential observation made by a research worker can make possible the saving of millions of lives.

For instance, Dr. Fleming noticed in plates of culture media that bacteria did not grow in the area around a nodule which represented a colony of a mould which had accidentally contaminated the "plate." He reasoned correctly that the mould must make a substance that prevents the growth of most bacteria, and today we have that substance in the form of our life-protecting penicillin.

I was just reading the latest news sheet of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, in which is told the remarkable story of a chance discovery which has made possible much of the present rapid advance in the field of polio studies.

During an epidemic of polio it is highly important to be able to tell which "contacts" of an infected child are carrying the virus in their blood. Years ago the method for testing for polio virus was to inject the material into a chimpanzee, and then wait to see if he would develop some paralysis. Naturally, such work was very expensive and very time-consuming.

TEST RESULTS QUICKER

Today, in order to see what a shot of vaccine has done for a child, we want much to know if many of the so-called "protective antibodies" have appeared in his blood. Again, in the old days, such studies had to be made with a group of chimpanzees. Today the tests are being made cheaply and quickly in a test-tube.

How did this change come about? In Baltimore, in 1951, when a woman died with a peculiar type of cancer, the scientists fortunately cultured the cells, and got them to growing in test-tubes. Today, descendants of these cells are still growing, and, for all we know, they will keep growing for the next hundred years, or so long as they are frequently transplanted, and kept free from germs.

This transplantation must be done with the utmost care, in a germ-proof room filled with sterile air. The girls who do the work are covered from the top of their head to the soles of their shoes in sterile clothes.

Let just one germ get into a culture and grow, and a whole batch of the growing cancer cells will have to be thrown out.

In laboratories at the University of Minnesota it was found that these human cancer cells are extraordinarily susceptible to injury by the polio virus. Just add a little blood from a sick child and one can quickly tell by the destruction or non-destruction of a layer of the growing cells whether or not a trace of polio virus was present. To see if protective antibodies are present in the body of a vaccinated child a bit of his blood is added to a tube which contains growing cells and some active virus. If the virus now fails to injure the cells, it will be obvious that it has been neutralized by antibodies.

How interested the woman in Baltimore would have been if, as she lay dying, she could have known that her cancer cells were going to contribute so enormously to the solution of the problem of protecting millions of children from polio!

Surely, no one can foresee the eventual value of a bit of research. Today, at the George Washington Carver Foundation, at Tuskegee, there are two laboratories whose one big job is to produce each week and ship out to research workers everywhere 12,000 tubes and 200 bottles of the human cancer cells.

INFLUENZA

This winter there is much hope that serious outbreaks of influenza can be avoided. Fortunately, improved types of vaccine have been made, vaccines which will protect a person for six months against the commoner types of the influenza virus. Unfortunately, these viruses often change suddenly, thereby making old stocks of vaccine useless.

Today, in order to keep prepared for these changes, the World Health Organization keeps watching and "typing" the viruses which are responsible for outbreaks of influenza, wherever they appear. Then the direction of travel of the epidemic is noted so that perhaps by the time a very bad type of virus reaches the United States, supplies of the special type of vaccine necessary to combat it will have been prepared.

Post-Budget Trouble Foreseen in Nanaimo

Mayor Muir Fears Cities, Municipalities Of Province Soon Will Be 'Deep in Debt'

NANAIMO—It was a "dark day for the cities and municipalities of this province when the Social Credit government got into power," Mayor George Muir said here on the week-end in commenting on the provincial budget.

"It won't be long before we are in the same hole as the municipalities in Alberta, that are all deep in debt," he said.

"It's a grim picture for Nanaimo," he said earlier, when commenting on the education finance provisions of the new budget. "Premier Bennett said no city or municipality would be hurt, but I fail to see how we can escape suffering as a city."

Finance committee chairman, Ald. Mrs. Alan Hall, said: "I don't feel we are in a position to make a statement until we know exactly what the situation is. Much depends on the government's thoughts on our unique situation since taking the Breench area into the city in 1952. Surely we won't be handicapped financially simply because we are growing fast."

"If we have great confidence in our present government. They at least don't seem to mind changing an opinion or burdening some legislation in the interest of this province at large, and we feel in Nanaimo that we are an important centre of it."

He also mentioned the work of Hugh N. Lister of New Westminster, a member for 26 years; Edgar Robinson, 17 years; Miss Margaret Clay, six years, and W. C. Mainwaring, seven years.

STAFF OF 13
The new building at Strickland and Needham Streets has a working area of 4,000 square feet, where a staff of 13 keeps track of 57,000 volumes to 21 branch libraries, 60 school libraries and the 165 bookmobile stops of the district served.

The library operates under terms of the Public Libraries Act of the province.

It is financed through a per capita tax levied throughout the library district by local administrations, city and district councils, village commissions, and school boards.

Service is free to all residents of the regional library district where the whole of the library's book stock is kept among the branch libraries.

A Branni gan in the Making

Former scourge of the National Hockey League, Vancouver Canucks' Wild Bill Ezinicki, had a whacking good time at the expense of the Victoria Cougars Saturday night at Memorial Arena until he threw one body check too many. Then Cougar captain Colin Kilburn took the law into his own hands, sailed into Ezinicki and the pair tangled, with Kilburn getting the best of the exchanges. (Times Photo.)

Cougars Reap Dividends In Win Over Canucks

Victoria 5, Vancouver 2
Westminster 9, Calgary 5
Saskatoon 4, Edmonton 3

By BILL WALKER

Victoria Cougars got down in front in more ways than one Saturday night, at Memorial Arena.

Primarily they won the game from Vancouver Canucks, 5-2, after spotting the Canucks an early lead and a 1-0 first-period margin.

Secondly, they stifled the Vancouver threat on their fourth-place position for the time being at least by increasing the point spread between the two clubs to seven. The Canucks still have a game in hand.

Thirdly, Andy Heberton rifled home two goals to set the scoring pace and take the Western Hockey League lead in that department. Heberton now has 37 goals, two more than Edmonton's Bronco Horvath.

And fourthly, one of Canucks' most prized intimidators, Bill Ezinicki, was roundly intimidated himself by Colin Kilburn of the Cougars, and lost the decision to the Cougar captain in the extra-curricular activity that added spice to the fusing meeting between the two clubs.

In addition, the Cougars moved to within three points of third-place Calgary, the Stampede getting badly whipped at New Westminster, 9-5.

In the league's other contest Saturday, Max Bentley scored a goal in the final minute to give Saskatoon Quakers a 4-3 decision over the league-leading Edmonton Flyers who start a coast trip at Vancouver Tuesday, meeting the Cougars here Wednesday.

Cougars got behind early in the Saturday game when Fred Brown broke away from a Cougar gang attack occasioned through a penalty to Harry Dick of the Canucks. Brown was all alone on his successful rush to beat Marcel Pelletier easily.

A penalty to Ezinicki put the Cougars in control early in the second period. Heberton got his first goal from Doug Macaulay and Kilburn with Ezinicki off, and a little over three minutes later Walt Clune put the Cougars in the lead when his shot trickled through goalie Jonny Bower's hand. Before the period was over Mike Keating made a particularly fine run to give Heberton a perfect pass which the husky winger converted.

NEAR RECORD

Pete Durham moved to within two goals of the league record for goals scored by a defenseman when he scored at 12:14 of the third period for his 16th goal of the season. Jack Lancien and Mark Marquess got the others, Marquess scoring just as the final horn sounded. Canucks protested the counter, but to no avail.

In the Ezinicki-Kilburn encounter, the Cougar winger had the better of the engagement, after Ezinicki precipitated the clash by bouncing Billy Reay from behind. And although other players on the ice at the time threatened to make it a real free-for-all, nothing further developed.

But that doesn't say it won't when the two clubs meet again here this Saturday.

TUMBLE, Tunisia—Jimmy King, Buffalo, N.Y., outpointed Jo Dehen, Tunisia (10).

Canada to Meet Russia Last World Hockey Tournament

V's Open Against U.S. Team

KREFELD, Germany (AP)—Russia and Canada will meet on the final day of the world hockey championships here March 6, just as they did in Sweden last year when the Russians defeated the Canadians to win the title.

The International Ice Hockey Federation Sunday announced the schedule for the championships to be played in four cities of West Germany from Feb. 26 through March 6.

Canada, represented by Penitence Vs. Allan Cup champions, opens against the United States.

Penitence Vs. will get a chance to familiarize themselves with European style hockey tonight when they tangle with Kamloops Elks in an exhibition game in Vancouver.

The meeting between the two Okaanagan Senior Hockey League teams will feature the European style of play, minimizing body contact. Proceeds from the game will help finance Penitence's trip to the world hockey tournament in Germany later this month.

States at Dortmund Feb. 25. Russia and the U.S. will meet March 2.

The competition is divided into two groups. In group A Russia will defend its title against eight teams: Canada, the U.S., Czechoslovakia, Sweden, Switzerland, Poland, Finland and West Germany.

In group B play for the junior cup, defending champion Italy will compete against France, Austria, Belgium, Holland, Hungary, Yugoslavia and a West German B team.

FOUR CITIES

The tournament will be played in Krefeld, Cologne, Dusseldorf and Dortmund in stadiums with seating capacities ranging from 7,000 to 10,000.

Teams will get two points for a win and one for a draw. The team with the largest number of points wins the title. In case of a point tie a playoff will be held.

Richard Nets Four As Habs Whip Blues

By The Canadian Press

Maurice Rocket Richard gave a fresh demonstration of his prowess Sunday night, scoring four goals as Montreal Canadiens crushed New York Rangers, 7-3, in a National Hockey League game.

The high-flying Canadiens, leaders of the league, thus swept a week-end home-and-home series. They defeated New York 3-1 Saturday night.

Boston Bruins tied Detroit Red Wings 2-2 Sunday night after swamping the Wings and goalie Terry Sawchuk under an 8-4 count Saturday night.

Toronto Maple Leafs took three of a possible four points in a home-and-home series with Chicago Black Hawks. They downed the Hawks 4-2 Sunday night following a 2-2 tie between the teams the previous night.

The game stretched the Black Hawks' winless streak to 15 games.

Sid Smith fired two goals, his 27th and 28th of the season, to pace the third-place Leafs to their victory in Chicago over the Black Hawks, doormat team in the league.

The game stretched the Black Hawks' winless streak to 15 games.

Pete Conacher, Danny Lewicki and Andy Bathgate connected for the Rangers.

Richard's feat marked the first time this season an NHL player has scored four goals in one game. It also was the third time the fabulous Rocket has collected three or more goals in a game during the current campaign.

New Shuttle Champs Named

New champions were crowned in all events at the finals of the B.C. Badminton Championships Saturday night on the courts of the Victoria Lawn Tennis and Badminton Club.

Jean Waring of Calgary, starry Canadian junior champion and holder of two prairie titles, added another trophy to her collection when she won the women's singles crown. The Alberta shuttle star clashed with Dea Edgell of Vancouver and, although the latter played a strong game, leading on several occasions, Miss Waring was never in trouble, taking the first set with the loss of only four points. In the second, Miss Edgell made a determined bid, resorting to a powerful clearing game to the baseline and ran up a 7-4 lead. However, the new champion settled down and with clever cross-court drops evened the score at 7-11 and went on to win 11-7.

In the men's singles, Dave McTaggart thrilled the large gallery when he proved for the second time that the Victoria courts are to his liking in scoring a convincing straight set win over Darryl Thompson, second ranking Canadian shuttle star.

In a crowd-pleasing game, the two Vancouver aces used every shot in the book to put on a dazzling display. Almost uncanonically, featured by superb recoveries, by McTaggart off Thompson's sizzling smashes sent the first set to 6-11. From then on the Vancouver youngster edged point by point to win 15-12.

Mr. Hugh Francis, president of the host club, welcomed the visiting players and introduced Mrs. W. H. Dunbar, wife of Mr. W. H. Dunbar, Honorary President of the B.C. Association, who presented the prizes.

Handicap women's singles: Miss J. McCreight, Victoria, defeated Diana Parsons, Victoria, 11-7, 11-5. Handicap men's doubles: Ken Douglas and Rex Headley, Victoria, defeated F. Hanna and B. Beebe, Nanaimo, 8-13, 13-12, 11-4. Handicap mixed doubles: Miss Parsons and Ed Headley, Victoria, defeated Mr. and Mrs. Ted Witters, 15-4, 15-4.

Rain Cancels All Sunday Minor Soccer

Sunday's junior and juvenile soccer matches between Eagles and Macs, division one, and Eagles and ANAF Vets, division two, were canceled because of wet grounds.

Eagles of division three broke a first-place tie with Canadian Scottish by fading the Scots 3-0 at Lansdowne Park Saturday. Ron Smith made it 1-0 in the first-half while Terry Jones booted in the second goal and was responsible for the third marker deflected by a Scot defender in the final.

Eagles, division four, blanked Sidney 2-0 to climb into a first-place tie with Canadian Scottish who played to a 1-1 tie with Combines.

John Youson and Barry Menzies scored for Eagles. Bob Mall tallied on a penalty for Combines and Paul Wade knotted the count for Scots.

Eagles in division five moved two points closer to first-place by downing Combines 3-2 at Central Park. Hal Piton, Bruce Pollard and Don Straw scored for the Eagles, while Keith Robertson and Joe Stebeck made the Combines' two markers.

Littler Captures Phoenix Open Golf

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Veterans bowed to youth again Sunday as Gene Littler shot a one-over-par 71 to win the $15,000 Phoenix open golf tournament with a 72 hole score of 275. He collected the $2,400 top money to go with the $5,000 he won last month as first prize in the Los Angeles open event. The 24-year-old United States amateur champion of 1933 started Sunday's final 18 holes deadlocked at 204 with Jay Hebert and Johnny Palmer. Hebert folded during the first nine.

Johnny was even with Littler through the 11th hole but could not maintain the pace, finishing with 72 in a second-place tie, one stroke behind Littler. Another former amateur champion, Billy Maxwell of Odessa, took 276. Littler, in the following threesome, had to beat that and he did it with a birdie four on the final hole. Hebert of Woodmere, L.I., was five over par and couldn't do any catching up. He finished well back with a 75-279. Two strokes back came three veterans, Cary Middlecoff, Klamath Lake, N.Y., 69; Jerry Barber, Los Angeles, 68, and Ted Kroll, Bethesda, Md., 67.

Jackson Cup Soccer Opens

Eight Victoria and District Football Association teams opened the Jackson Cup series over the week-end. Tillicums, Esquimalt and Wood Motors were off and running but Heaneys and Butler Brothers are still arguing at the starting gate, after a marathon two-and-a-half-hour game to no decision.

Gunnar Sets World Mark As Wes Brawls

NEW YORK (AP)—Save a little sympathy for Gunnar Nielson. He deserves it. The Copenhagen runner holds the world indoor mile record. But his fine performance—4:03.6, which shaved 2-10ths of a second off Wes Santee's week-old mark—has been all but lost in the shuffle.

In fact, it is safe to say that not more than a handful of the 14,736 spectators who jammed Madison Square Garden for the Millrose Games Saturday night saw him break the tape.

There was a better performance going on behind him. Santee and Fred Dyer, a pint-sized edition of Man Mountain Dean, were engaging in a lively rassinlin match.

Dwyer got the decision, breaking off of Santee's hold to cross the finish line behind Nielson. But the referee... er, judges, blew the whistle on him and he was disqualified. On the reversed decision Santee was awarded the place.

"I want another crack at him," Dwyer grunted through his teeth in the best manner of the ring. He'll get it Saturday in the New York AC Games.

Button Golf Postponed

Heavy rain and wind forced cancellation of Sunday's scheduled city senior button match at Gorge Vale Golf Club.

The match has been rescheduled for Feb. 20, when holders Laurie Carroll and Gordon Verley will take on challengers Vic Painter and Bill McColl over the Gorge course.

Next Sunday, Gorge Vale will host the monthly city medal round.

Bays Rally to Earn Second Rugger Victory

The James Bay Athletic Association rugby squad wound up its Miller Cup season with a victorious flourish Saturday at MacDonald Park.

The Bays picked up their second victory of the season Saturday and moved one point ahead of Oak Bay Wanderers, the city's other Miller Cup team, with a 10-6 victory over Vancouver's South Burnaby.

The victory, which left Bays in ninth place in the 11-team league, was gained when the local team twice came from behind.

Halfway through the first-half Harry Winters put South Burnaby ahead when he made good on a penalty-kick. The Vancouver club made the 3-0 lead hold up until the early minutes of the second-half. Big Ed Bourke put Bays on the comeback trail when he broke over the South Burnaby line for a try, which was converted by Pete Turko from a tough angle.

The visitors took a 6-5 lead when Richie Smith ploughed five yards for an unconverted try but Bays struck for the winning try with 10 minutes left in the game. Speedy Art Manson started the drive with a clever 40-yard run, faked the fullback out of position and then passed to Keith McDonald who finished the drive off. Turko again converted. Only one second division match was played, the high-scoring Victoria College Vikings grinding out a 10-3 victory over Oak Bay Wanderers at Windsor Park.

A try by Harry Robbins, converted by Mike Fox, gave College a 5-0 lead at the half and they doubled their points in the second half when T. Sharp scored and Fox converted. Doug Williams scored Wanderers' only try.

University School trampled Oak Bay, 18-0, in a midweek match at University School.

NORMAL SCHOOL NEWS

Literary Society Hears of Trip

By LILLIAN MacKAY
Times Normal School Correspondent

At their last regular meeting, the outgoing executive of The Literary Society staged a program recalling the highlights of preceding meetings since last September.

Continuing with travelogues, Miss Annabelle Lovesth described a trip to Europe last summer. "Three days spent in London will be remembered for the kindness of its citizens, while the people of Bergen and Oslo were equally hospitable to the traveler.

The activity of these Norwegian cities was a distinct contrast to the slow quiet life in the mountains where skiing and skating were much enjoyed.

Miss Lovesth also visited Sweden, Denmark, Holland, and Germany, carrying home a vivid impression of each country.

The teachers next were given a demonstration of "Make an Arch" and "California Schotische" by square-dancers Helen Bell, Dawn Bell, Shirley Chase, Dorothy Plant, Emil Meister, Denis Plamondon, Ray Gaudet, and Morris Bidulka.

The piano duo of Joyce Butler and Beth Turner revealed a beautiful singing tone and excellent rhythm in the playing of "The Gulliwog's Cake Walk."

The Normal School Symphony Orchestra, under concert-master William Bertsch, interpreted excerpts from the works of Gluck, Tschaiakowsky, and Haydn with technical skill and fine musicianship. The members of this group are violinists W. Bertsch, H. Dewar, M. Vance, J. Nelson, R. Swarich, with clarinetist A. Snowsell and pianist J. Butler.

The lovely soprano voice of Marlene Vance was heard to good advantage in the singing of Appalachian, Hebridean and Irish folk songs.

The fine balanced tone of the choir, accompanied by D. B. Geddes, was very evident in the Bach chorale, "Oh Saviour Sweet," and the chorus from "The Messiah" which climaxed the program.

H. Gilliland, principal of the Normal School, led the teachers in congratulating outgoing president Myrtle Bratvold and her executive on their achievement during the first term.

The representative teams to meet Vancouver Normal School athletes during the "invasion" of March 18-19 are now being chosen.

Excellent progress is being shown during rehearsals of "The Neighbours," the French peasant comedy which will be staged that week-end.

In volleyball Division 2 Team B defeated Division 3 Team B in a recent game. House 2 defeated House 1 by a score of 14-8 in last Monday's basketball game.

LIBERACE CAME AS—LIBERACE

Elephant Saw Pink Henie At Sonja's Circus Party

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Sonja Henie took over Ciro's Saturday night for a fabulous circus party that had everything, including a callopie, a live hippo and Liberace.

Miss Henie, who has been called Little Miss Moneybags because of her financial skill, shelled out a sum conservatively estimated at $15,000 for the party. She was asked the reason for it.

"No reason," she smiled. "I just felt like having a party."

The ice show queen played her role to the hilt, arriving on a baby elephant borrowed from another night club, Moulin Rouge. She wore a brief spangled pink leotard.

Pianist Liberace drew the most attention. Arriving with his TV producer's wife, Mrs. Don Feddersen, he wore a tuxedo with ruffled shirt and gold sequined tie. Asked who he was coming as, he smiled, "Liberace."

'Toonerville Trolley' Originator to Retire

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The rickety little "Toonerville Trolley" that has rocked across newspaper pages for 40 years is headed for the scrap heap. It was one of the early comic strips.

Fontaine T. Fox, who originated and drew the "Toonerville Folks" cartoon for newspapers since 1915, Sunday announced his retirement, effective with his Feb. 12 drawing.

Cherniavski Genius Thrills Audience

Tschaikowski Concerto in B Flat Minor Given First 'Live' Performance in Victoria

By AUDREY S.T.D. JOHNSON

One of the best-known and most popular of all piano concerti was the principal item on Sunday afternoon's concert by the Victoria Symphony Orchestra. With Jan Cherniavski at the keyboard and Hans Gruber on the podium, the first "live" performance of the Tschaikowski B flat minor to be heard in Victoria was clearly thrilling to a fairly large audience.

The fact that it was composed by one of the fabulous virtuosos of the last century—Nicholas Rubinstein—in mind, accounts for the fact that it stands as one of the technically most exhaustive piano concerti in the repertoire.

Cherniavski gave every impression of tossing it off nonchalantly however and being completely relaxed at all times. He achieved breath-taking tempi in cadenza passages; broad, rich, powerful tone that, particularly in the opening chords of the first movement and finale of the third, matched in significance and sonority full amplitude of the entire orchestra.

The sheer dazzle of his technical facility and authority of style, together with an attitude, during orchestral interludes, of seeming unconcern, touched the whole performance with some suggestion of mechanical slickness. Temperament of the artist appeared, however, in the grace and sweetness of the second movement and in the delicacy of Chopin waltzes added as encores.

Gruber's precision on the podium, his complete and objective concept of the work, kept soloist and orchestra in firm partnership, and the orchestra, apart from occasional lapses of unanimity, did its work well.

Gruber's understanding and feeling for Mozart is obvious in the sensitive performance with which his musicians reward him. Galety and bubbling mischief of the "The Abduction From the Seraglio" which was played with genuine brio, was a tany prelude to a gourmet's feast of music.

Delicacy, sweetness and charm of the symphony in G minor, a product of the later period of Mozart's life, were brought most fully to the mind of the listener. Some exquisite phrasing and lovely subtle color was noticeable in all sections of the orchestra.

The program will be repeated tonight at the Royal Theatre, commencing at 8.30.

FEDERAL REPORT DUE ON FAST GULF FERRY

The proposal for establishing a fast ferry run between the north end of Saanich Peninsula and the lower B.C. mainland is being given study by the department of Transport's economics branch.

Dr. Frank T. Fairley, Victoria MP, sent word today that Transport Minister George Marler has informed him government economists are giving careful consideration to the matter.

Dr. Fairley, who supports the Victoria Chamber of Commerce in urging better boat service for southern Vancouver Island by establishing a gulf terminal at or near Sidney, asked for a proper engineering examination of the whole of Saanich Peninsula when he spoke recently in the House of Commons.

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

One of the many scientists who give me a bad case of the disillusions is a medical writer whose work appears in national publications.

Under the heading "Medical Quiz," this expert lists five questions:

- (1) Is spinach a particularly good food?
- (2) Is fish good for the brain?
- (3) Should you remove flowers from your bedroom at night?
- (4) Is a cut from a rusty nail more dangerous than a cut from a clean one?
- (5) Is it safe to keep food in cans that have been opened?

The expert then remarks with a supercilious sneer "If you can't answer these questions correctly, you're the victim of an old wives' tale." And here are the correct answers:

- (1) Not particularly. (2) No. (3) It makes no difference to health whether you do or not. (4) No, a clean nail may carry as many germs as a rusty one—the rust will not hurt you. (5) Yes, there is no danger of ptomaine poisoning. If the food spoils it would have done so no matter what container you used.

So I guess that makes me a prime victim of old wives' tales. And I was much happier before this medical expert came along and disillusioned me.

I don't mind the part about fish and brain food, not being much of a one for brains; nor the part about flowers in the bedroom, as I am very rarely given flowers; nor the part about rusty nails and opened tin cans, as (a) I get most of my cuts from rusty razor blades and (b) at our house, once a can is opened, there is no question of keeping the food.

But the part about spinach not being much good breaks my heart.

For years, I have eaten spinach with righteousness and self esteem, secure in the knowledge it was good for me.

I have said to other people: "Eat your spinach, like I do. It is good for you."

Now I find out it isn't good for you. And I shall have to confess that the reason I have been eating it all these years is, I like the stuff.

I wish these medical men would keep their findings to themselves.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

Victoria Chapter of Registered Nurses' Association meets Tuesday at 7:45 p.m. at Spencer House, 1951 Cook. Frances King and Mary Roberts, 1953 graduates of St. Joseph's Hospital, will address the meeting with an account of their recent six-month hitch-hiking tour of Europe.

Kenneth Charles Houle, 31 Oswego Street, convicted in city police court today of failing to yield the right-of-way Jan. 28, was fined $15, in default three days.

According to evidence, he failed to give the right of way to a pedestrian in a "stop when occupied" zone at Douglas and Topaz.

Mrs. A. C. Harris, 732 Sea Terrace, reported to city police today three panes of glass in her garage had been broken by rocks. One of them, she said, had smashed a side window of her car, parked inside the garage.

Victoria Library Board was slated to meet with representatives of Oak Bay, Saanich, Central Saanich and Esquimalt late today to discuss matters relative to the 1955 library budget.

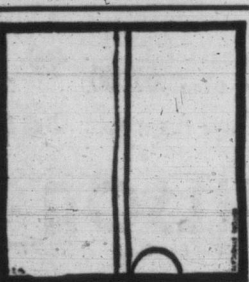

The outside municipalities have been given voice but no vote at board sessions in the past. There have been expressions of displeasure voiced since 1954 costs have shown the municipalities to be paying a greater share than the city.

Thomas D. Lavery of HMCS Cedarwood pleaded guilty in city police court today to a charge of careless driving Dec. 23, and was fined $50, in default seven days.

Lavery was charged as the result of an accident on Esquimalt Road, when the car he was driving struck a pedestrian, causing a leg fracture and shock.

Magistrate H. C. Hall recommended his driver's license be suspended.

Solarium Junior League has collected $4,178 in its Polo March of Dimes, $827 of this amount coming in to campaign headquarters Saturday.

At police-firemen's "family night" in the Arena Friday, patrons threw $47 into Solarium umbrellas.

John D. Merrifield, 919 Pandora Avenue, reported to city police Sunday theft of several articles from his room.

He said one suit, one pair of drapes, a long coat valued at $70, a sweater, six shirts, a sports shirt, cuff links with diamonds, a wrist watch, camera, portable radio and socks and ties were missing.

GIRL'S STORY

We went across town on Quadra to the bottom of the Blanshard Street hill, along Blanshard to Douglas and then into the park at the entrance near South Park School.

Up to now he hadn't apparently thought about the woman driver in the two-toned Austin but when he turned into the park he discovered me.

And I shivered a little as I thought: "What if he has a gun?"

CAUGHT AGAIN

I slipped along Douglas Street to the next entrance by the children's wading pool and caught him again as he headed for Lover's Lane.

By now I was beginning to think I'd be late with my Penny Saver column and I nearly turned back. But something... perhaps my imagination... kept me behind him.

I shot into Lover's Lane and around a corner practically bumped into a maroon car. I almost had a heart attack but it was another car.

OUT OF SIGHT

By the time I reached Cook and Dallas the Kaiser was out of sight. So I went into a house and telephoned the Times to ask the city editor if anything actually happened on the corner of Hillside and Douglas at 10 a.m. If he had said "No" I really would have collapsed, but "wonderful" that he is, he practically screamed at me "Yes... where are you... What do you know about it?"

To make a long story short I spied off the license numbers of the cars and stayed where I was until the police caught up with me.

Gosh! A blue Monday can turn out to be quite a day! But honestly I don't know what I'm going to write about in my Penny Saver column on Tuesday!

CITY HOLD-UP

Meanwhile, Times woman's department reporter Terry French, 20, just seated herself in her small English car, preparing to go over town on an assignment.

She saw the commotion and followed the Mercury up Hillside to Blanshard, toward the Memorial Arena. At arena way she saw the Mercury stop, a man got out, and got into a maroon Kaiser. She followed the Kaiser, which increased speed and left her behind at Wellington and Dallas Road, where she phoned the Times city desk which immediately notified police of the description and license number of the cars.

Work has been started there for a sea-view parking area. It will continue until the 1954 grant is spent. Meantime, future thinking has been toward a similar development at Clover Point.

Planners are secretive about the project but there has been much mention of construction of a promenade. Stretching out into the strait, the point affords Victoria's best harbor view.

Until more definite indications are made, that is apparently the best bet.

Brian Orr tops 16 Novices at Motorbike Trial

All but one of a 16-entry field got through Victoria Motorbike Club's annual novice trial held at the club property on Millstream Road Sunday.

Mechanical trouble caused the bike of one entrant to literally fall apart, and he was unable to finish his laps.

The course, laid out under direction of veteran motorcyclist John Collier, was set up in 10 sections, through which each novice was required to ride five times.

A perfect score would have been a clean slate, but no entrant achieved this. Best score of the event went to Brian Orr, with four points.

Charles Arnold was second with six; Ernest Hills scored 11; Don Smith 24; Howard Sadler 32, and Mel Bissenden 34.

YOUNG VICTORIA PILOT MET HERO'S DEATH

'He Saved Us From Burning Like a Bonfire'

Sands Funeral Chapel was crowded Saturday in a last tribute to a Victoria man who died a hero's death.

Captain Bill Bellam was pilot of a B.C. Airlines Beaver aircraft that crashed last week on rugged Moresby Island, taking the lives of two other men and seriously injuring the other four. The last man to die was Bill Clarke, a logger.

He died while Bellam's funeral was under way.

Story of the heroism of Bellam was told today by one of the survivors, Roland Tremblay, who is recovering from injuries in Vancouver General Hospital.

"Bill Bellam saved us from burning like a bonfire," Tremblay said the pilot's courage in "sticking with it" to the last second saved the lives of the survivors.

The plane was on a routine 10-minute flight to the Aero Logging Camp at Cumsheewa Inlet.

An inspector, sergeant, five detectives and six constables, with all available patrol cars, were rushed into action.

The two men brought in for questioning were apprehended in the Fernwood Road area. When they were brought to the police station by Detectives Alex Briggs and Angus Munro, one of the men put up a violent struggle at the foot of the stairs leading to the detective office.

While his companion looked on quietly, he fought, kicked, thrashed, and struck at the detectives.

Constable N. Bouchard rushed in from the adjoining traffic office to lend assistance, and the men were taken up the stairs.

A Mercury sedan was later brought to the station and placed in the prowler car garage. Crossed wires in the car shored, filling the garage with smoke.

$50,000 GRANT MAY BE SPENT AT CLOVER PT.

Victoria Waterfront Beautification To Be Continued Through B.C. Aid

By PETE LOUDON

A $50,000 Capital City grant contained in the provincial budget likely will be spent on further beautification of Victoria waterfront.

Best guess for 1955 development is Clover Point.

But chairman of the Capital Grant Committee, deputy minister of municipal affairs, J. E. Brown, said final decision is yet to be reached.

He said that his six-man committee would consult with Victoria Town Planning Commission but meeting dates have not yet been set.

Town planning and regional planning officials are known to be concerned primarily with making Victoria's waterfront a main tourist attraction for the area. And last year's expenditure of a similar capital grant was earmarked for Holland Point.

PARKING AREA

Work has been started there for a sea-view parking area. It will continue until the 1954 grant is spent. Meantime, future thinking has been toward a similar development at Clover Point.

Salk Vaccine For City Tots In Early April

Anti-Polio Shots Planned For 3,600 Youngsters

Anti-polio injections for an estimated 3,600 Grade 1 and pre-school children in Greater Victoria school area are expected to start here the first week in April.

A meeting of public health officials of Victoria, Esquimalt, Oak Bay and Saanich to plan a public education program for the project will be held Tuesday.

It was learned today that Salk polio vaccine, which medical men say promises to be the most powerful weapon yet devised against the disease, will be available here.

11 Injured In Traffic Accidents

Two in Row On Blenkinsop

Eleven persons were taken to hospital for treatment following a rash of week-end accidents. Three drivers were charged today in court with driving while impaired by alcohol.

Two accidents within 20 minutes Sunday at Blenkinsop and Cedar Hill Cross Road sent seven persons to hospital.

Most seriously hurt in the two collisions was Mrs. W. A. Johnston, of Edmonton, Alta. She suffered a fractured left wrist and multiple abrasions.

Mrs. Marian Petersen, 1217 Clovelly Terrace; Deanne Dean, 12 years of age, of 1566 Athlone Drive; Sheron Thompson, 12, of 1513 Athlone Drive; Mrs. Jean Lockwood, 817 McClure; Mrs. Irene Williams, 69, of 1007 Johnson and Dorothy Dykes, 50, 30 Douglas Street, all were given treatment and discharged.

Saanich police said the first accident occurred about 12.15 p.m. when a car driven by Carl J. Dean, 1566 Athlone Drive, driven south on Blenkinsop was in collision with another vehicle driven north on Blenkinsop by Mrs. Petersen.

WAITING FOR WRECKER

Second collision occurred at 12.35 p.m. when a vehicle driven by Dorothy Dykes stopped to wait for a wrecker to remove wreckage from the first accident.

They said a vehicle driven by Paul Arthur Clarkson, 2770 Scott Street, came over the crest of a hill and was in collision with the Dykes car.

William Thompson, 57, of 2861 Cadboro Bay Road, was admitted to hospital, and his daughter, Dana, 13 years old, was treated for minor injuries after an accident Sunday about 7 p.m. near the 17-Mile House on Sooke Road.

Sooke RCMP said Thompson's vehicle skidded out of control and rolled over twice coming to a rest about 80 feet from the road.

Ernest Eburn, Metchoshin, suffered a broken right leg, back injury, concussion and a lacerated scalp when struck by a car while pushing his bicycle along the Island Highway between Six Mile House and Colwood corner Saturday.

Mrs. Jennie Trach, 5177 Agate Lane, suffered minor injuries following a three-car collision Saturday afternoon at 2:20 p.m. at Rose and Hillside.

Impaired Drivers Fined $250 Each In Courts Here

George M. Mortimer, 1308 Dunsterville Avenue, pleaded guilty in Saanich court today to impaired driving Feb. 5, and was fined $250, in default 15 days.

Magistrate H. C. Hall also recommended that his license be suspended.

The charge arose out of an accident Feb. 5 at 3:30 p.m. when Mortimer's car went out of control while traveling north on Interurban Road, struck a rock facing, traveled 224 feet through brush, knocked down two trees, then drove down a 14-foot bank.

Damage was estimated at $1,000.

Norman Walski, 8430 French, was found guilty of impaired driving, and was fined $250, in default 15 days.

According to evidence, at 4:55 p.m. Feb. 5, Walski made two turns on Johnson Street, colliding with four cars. Little damage was caused.

George Thomas Watt, 1121 Woodstock, pleaded not guilty to a charge of impaired driving Feb. 5, and was remanded to Feb. 9 for trial. Bail was set at $250.

New School Formula Gets 'Green Light'

Education Minister Ray Wiliston was scheduled to introduce in the Legislature today bills for the implementation of the provincial government's new school finance formula.

Premier Bennett said the legislation would be in the form of amendments to existing bills, particularly the School Act.

Details of the new provincial municipal school financing formula were revealed in the premier's budget speech Friday.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem, along with the Times, addressed to "Ask The Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily.

All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve conundrums.

Q. Can you tell me when the legislative buildings were opened?

A. Just 57 years ago next Thursday. The official opening was on February 16, 1898. Q. I hear that the province once had its own stamps. Is that correct?

A. Yes. First stamp was issued in 1861 and cost 2½ pence. In 1865 five and 10 cent stamps were issued for use on Vancouver Island alone. There was another issue in 1864 of a three-penny stamp. All featured the likeness of Queen Victoria, and today are very rare.

RELATIVELY SCARCE

But as it is still relatively scarce, only those youngsters in the age group most often afflicted by polio will be able to get the vaccinations at this time.

One of the biggest jobs facing the health workers is obtaining parents' consent and registration before the 15th of March.

There are 1,795 Grade One pupils attending district schools at present and a similar number at least is expected to begin school in September.

The vaccine will be free of charge and will only be obtainable from public health sources. It will not be available through drug stores or private medical sources.

The vaccine is administered in three doses. The first is set for the first week in April, the second a week later and the third and final shot will be given a month later.

There has only been one child admitted to the district polio centre at Jubilee Hospital so far this year. Admitted last week, the little boy is now reported in "good" condition.

Sportsman 'Bill' Okell Dies at 70

James William "Bill" Okell, one of Victoria's most ardent soccer fans and a man who contributed much to that sport, died Saturday at his home, 415 Springfield Avenue. He was 70.

Born in Farnworth, Lancashire, he had lived in Victoria since he was six. A star soccer player in his youth, he was one of the founders of the Victoria West Athletic Association.

He served on the executive of the West's soccer team up until 1947 and until his death seldom missed a game in which that team was participating. He saw his last game on Sunday, Jan. 30.

As a young man, Mr. Okell learned the shipwright's trade. Later he quit to become a life insurance salesman. He was an agent for Mutual Life for 27 years. At the outbreak of the Second World War he returned to his original trade. He retired two years ago after service at VMD and HMC Dockyard.

He is survived by his wife, Kate; two sons, Ray and Jack; one grandson, William Jack; three brothers, George and Stanley in Victoria, and Fred, Niagara Falls, Ont., and a sister, Mrs. F. Mitchell, Vancouver.

Funeral service will be held Tuesday at 3, at Hayward's Chapel, with James McNeill officiating. Interment will be at Ross Bay Cemetery.

New Frigate Leaves East For Esquimalt

The frigate St. Therese sailed today from Halifax to join the 2nd Canadian Escort Squadron based at Esquimalt.

The frigate, under the command of Lieut.-Cmdr. W. F. Potter of Victoria and Calgary, was commissioned at Saint John, N.B., Jan. 22 after extensive modernization.

She is scheduled to arrive in Esquimalt March 11.

Hasty Notes Make Letter Writing a Happy Habit

By PENNY SAVER

"Why don't you write?" "You owe me a letter!" How many times have I heard those words! I know! Well, I've found a means to goad myself into action. Some very, very attractive and appealing hasty notes, that make it a real pleasure to write those little letters, "cause I know that the person who receives 'em, even if he or she doesn't find the news too interesting, will at least find the note paper quite charming.

For those very short notes, I decided on the new signature notes. Every week new designs arrive. These that I picked are pen and ink drawings against a pink background. If you like real modern and clever character drawings, you'd love them.

There's a whole stream of "little people" heading towards a bright green mailbox . . . each figure seems to have a personality all its own. If you remember, I mentioned these signature notes once before, but in case you don't recall, they're not square . . . they're about four or five inches long and an inch and a half or two inches wide. The envelopes are of the same shape, and they truly are a refreshing change from the standard notes.

Another design was of a Siamese cat with large blue eyes against a chocolate brown background. Really striking! The length of the rather scrawny (but appealing) cat was emphasized by the length of the card. Both boxes are priced at 85 cents each—wonderfully inexpensive!

For those extra little notes, maybe invitations or thank-you notes, you can buy 12 cards and envelopes for 33 cents! They are of colorful flower designs. Each card is different, so you won't get tired of using them.

Having a small group of friends this week-end, or next, or any time at all? I've discovered some wonderful little time and work savers for you who love to entertain but hate to clean up afterwards.

Honors Old-Time Residents

A social evening was held recently when the Strawberry Vale Women's Institute entertained 80 older residents of the community, at the Colquitz Hall.

Duncan McTavish showed pictures of early Victoria interspersed with color views of local beauty spots.

Many present remembered the old Malahat Drive shown as a mere trail and a hazardous half day's trip—now a super highway today showing the growth and progress made during the past fifty years. The striking colored views of the Parliament Buildings and flower beds, the Empress Hotel with the many autumn tints on the Virginia creeper, contrasted greatly with the setting shown of the inner harbor in the good old days with its old wooden bridge.

Old acquaintances were renewed during the serving of refreshments by members of the institute. This successful reunion was convened by Mrs. Colin Martin. Jack A. Humphries was master of ceremonies.

Invited guests were Mr. and Mrs. H. Brewster, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jackman, Mr. and Mrs. James Jackman, Mr. and Mrs. Will Barker, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Ball, Mr. and Mrs. A. Munroe, Mr. and Mrs. D. Lindsay, Mr. and Mrs. T. Scaife, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. R. Cochrane, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Youell, Mr. and Mrs. J. Brydon, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Parker, Mr. and Mrs. T. ## AS WE LIVE

Educational Lack Makes Mother Feel Inferior

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, PhD

One of the most important branches of our educational system today is that which focuses on adults. A woman writes: (Q) "I left high school before I could graduate because my family was poor and I felt I should get a job. While working I met a young man and we were married. That was 18 years ago."

"We have two teenage children; both are going to college. My husband is a college graduate and is now a very successful businessman. Most of the people we associate with are college graduates."

"I am always so ashamed, when friends ask me what college I went to, to have to tell them that I am not even a high school graduate. I am afraid that my children will be ashamed of me. I am beginning to get an inferiority complex about this matter. How can I help myself?"

(A) If you are a good wife and mother, your family will not be ashamed of you just because you do not have a college degree. However, if you allow yourself to feel inadequate because of your limited education, you will keep yourself from being the person you could be.

Why not complete your education now? If your husband is a successful businessman, he can afford to give you some domestic help so you can study. Ask the principal of your children's school what would be the best and quickest way for you to make up the high school credits you need for a diploma. There must be some classes in adult education available in your community.

Then when you have completed your high school work, consider going on to get a college degree. Many state universities offer "extension courses" in different parts of the state. There are also courses by correspondence and television. Write to your state university and ask what facilities it offers. Even if you had to take some work on the campus, you might do this during the summer as a part of your vacation.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Don't Let a State of Mind Sabotage Your Happiness

The state of mind you are in has such a drastic influence on how you do whatever you are doing. I notice this when writing "Why Grow Old?" articles on days when I am feeling gay and extremely alive I may get ideas which stimulate two or three columns while reading one newspaper. Creative effort is easy.

On other days I might read the same paper and not find a single "Why Grow Old?" subject. On some days I can plan really attractive meals with no effort at all, while on others I cannot think of anything but bean soup. I do not mean to malign bean soup because I like it very much, it is inexpensive and packed with health values.

I am sure that you must have noticed the same thing in your daily lives, but I believe that most folks attach far too little importance to this factor. There is no telling how many friends have been lost (at least to some degree), how many marriages have been wrecked, how many career opportunities have been passed up, or how much happiness in daily life has been lost, because we allowed our state of mind or the state of our vitality and health to sabotage us.

You, as a wife, a mother, or both, with a career or without one, must realize, looking back (and this is one time when it is smart to look back), that you would have met hectic circumstances with entirely different reactions had you been feeling on top of the world, or even halfway there.

I feel that serious consideration along this line is important in building happiness and successful living. I am naturally a happy person, hopelessly in love with life, and yet once in a while I feel as though I were at the bottom of a deep well, looking up at the dark sky above me, trying to find a star which I am sure is there but which I cannot possibly see at the time.

Most times of depression can be attributed to physical or emotional fatigue, and remember that physical exhaustion leads to emotional instability. Strains, weariness and worries can make you react in ways completely unnatural to your nature.

Never make important decisions when you feel this way. Never "run off" at the mouth or you will live to regret it. Temper your reactions with a wise understanding of yourself.

I think that every man and woman should have a little placard to hang about the neck on such days. It should read: "Be ware—this dog bites." This can mean either that you are apt to bite someone else or that you have already bitten yourself.

I just asked Emma, that wonderful person who has cooked wonderful food for us for the past 15 years, to read this column. She thinks it is very true and also funny. She just asked me, "Mrs. Lowman, how did you happen to think of bean soup?" I replied, "Because that is all I could think of for tomorrow."

An important factor is the emotional instability which many women experience a few days before their menstrual periods. A wife and husband should recognize this fact and avoid emotional discussions at these times.

If you would like to have my leaflet, "The Menstrual Period," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 31 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Some days it's easy to plan attractive meals, while on others you cannot think of anything but bean soup.

TODAY'S RECIPE

SOUP CREAM POT ROAST

Three and one-half to 4-pound pot roast, 2 medium onions, sliced; 1 clove garlic, minced; 3 tablespoons lard, 1 tablespoon salt, 1 cup dairy-soured cream, 1 cup water, 4 or 5-ounce package noodles.

In a Dutch oven or other heavy utensil lightly brown onion and garlic in hot lard. Push to one side of pan. Rub meat with salt and brown well. Combine sour cream with water and pour over meat. Top with onions and garlic, cover and cook over low heat (or in a 325 degree F oven) for 2½ hours or until tender.

Cook noodles in boiling salted water. Remove roast from pan and make gravy from drippings, adding to it the sour cream and onion mixture spooned from top of roast. Season to taste with salt, pepper and paprika. Serve noodles and meat topped with gravy.

Some people like curry powder in pot roast. Want to try it? About 45 minutes before the meat is done, mix 1 tablespoon of curry powder and 1 teaspoon of sugar with ½ cup of water. Stir into the liquid around the roast. Approximately six servings.

Mrs. J. N. V. Duncan... now a world traveler.

Flying the skyways and exploring the hinterlands of far-away countries is all in the day's work for Mrs. Duncan, who was a visitor in Victoria last week. She flew from Toronto to meet her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Archer Houlton, who traveled from their home in the south Okanagan to be with their daughter here. While in the city the trio stayed at the Oak Bay Beach Hotel.

Mrs. Duncan assists her husband, Col. J. N. V. Duncan, OBE, managing director of an old and respected British mining company, in his exploration trips to check on new properties. Last year they traveled more than 75,000 miles in the course of this work.

On the week-end she joined Col. Duncan in Vancouver and they immediately left on another journey that will take them more than 40,000 miles in the next three months.

Their destination is Sydney, in New South Wales, Australia. "From there we go off into the hinterland," Mrs. Duncan explains with a shrug of her expressive shoulders. "We travel mostly by plane but sometimes we hop a boat or take any other form of transportation that will get us to our destination."

From Australia this enterprising couple will go on to visit Fiji.

Mrs. Duncan has many friends in Victoria, where she worked "when I was very young," as she puts it.

From this city she went to Vancouver and from there aboard a Greek freighter through the Panama to England.

"I signed on as stewardess," she explains, "but there were no passengers so I didn't do a stroke of work. I was the only woman aboard, too. I suppose you might say I was the only passenger, really."

She was married in England and went to live in a delightful English country home called "Eden Bridge House" in Kent.

"Trouble is, in the work we do," Mrs. Duncan says rather regretfully, "we don't see very much of home. Just flying trips in between our longer jaunts."

Next to the thrill of finding promising mining properties, Mrs. Duncan lists color photography and she has an amazing collection to prove her love for this hobby. "Everywhere I go I try to get a good picture record," she explains.

Outstanding in her memories of places she has visited is Spain. "It is beautiful," she tells you.

"I still have to see Asia," she says, "but at present that seems like a nebulous dream, for my husband's company has no prospective mining properties listed on that continent."

Net Touched With Sequins Fashions Wedding Gown

Filmy white nylon net fashioned the gown chosen by Corine Margaret Irvine for her marriage to Victor Vincent Baratta last Saturday evening in First United Church.

The gown was styled with full, cocktail-length skirt and a neckline outlined in mother-of-pearl sequins. It was topped with a jacket of Chantilly lace featuring long lily point sleeves and stand-up collar. The two-tier nylon lace veil, applied in bridal rose design was held with a tiara of pearls and rhinestones and the bride carried a cascade bouquet of red roses, carnations and freesias.

Rev. Frank Johnston heard the vows spoken by the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce F. Irvine, 3245 Quadra Street, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Giuseppe Baratta, 3263 Alder Street. J. Hodgson played the Wedding March and William Gaetz sang "Through the Years." The bride was given in marriage by her father.

White chrysanthemums and daffodils decorated the front of the church and guest pews were marked with white bows and sprays of heather.

Miss Ruth McAllister, maid of honor, wore blue nylon net and lace over tulle, and the bridesmaid, Miss Beverly Baratta, sister of the groom, chose peach lace over tulle. Both carried bouquets of feathered chrysanthemum, carnations and freesias, en tone.

St. Barnabas Church the Wedding Setting for Inglis-MacKay Vows

To the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding music, Eva Lawrence MacKay entered St. Barnabas Church on the arm of her father to become the bride of David Homer Inglis. The ceremony was performed Saturday evening by Rev. E. Munn.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence MacKay, 2703 Cedar Hill Road, and the groom the son of Mrs. Emily Inglis and the late Mr. W. H. Inglis, 1219 Basil Avenue. Baskets of white stocks and lilies were placed on either side of the chancel steps, and white ribbons and flowers marked guest pews. Edward Oldfield sang "O Perfect Love." Organist was Mrs. R. Yerburgh.

The tall, slender bride made a charming picture in her full-skirted gown of tulle over crinoline. The fitted lace bodice was matched by a waist-length jacket with a tiny stand-up collar embroidered with seed pearls, and the sleeves extended into graceful lily-point cuffs. Her half-length veil of tulle, with a deep edging of matching lace, was held by a delicate coronet of seed pearls. She chose a cascade bouquet of red and white roses. Her only jewelry was a pair of pearl and rhinestone earrings, a gift of her brother, Wallace, of Terrace, B.C., who was unable to attend the ceremony.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Fred Inglis, chose a gown of powder blue net with a fitted bodice and a full billowing skirt of net and lace. Bridesmaid, Miss Mary

Toronto Social Group

Second get-together of former citizens of Toronto, since being organized as a social group in Victoria a month ago, was held in Orange Hall, Courtney St.

Motion pictures in color of the Kelowna Regatta, also of a trip up the Alaskan Highway, presented by R. L. Colby, were enjoyed by some 50 members of this new group. Apart from games and refreshments, a feature of the evening was the announcement of an application received from the Mayor of Toronto for membership in the Victoria group.

During the evening eight new members were enrolled and the executive was completed by election of H. O. O'Reilly as vice-president.

MacKay's cousin of the bride, wore a similar gown in pastel aquamarine shade. Both carried colonial bouquets of feathered carnations and daffodils and wore matching headbands.

Little six-year-old flower girl, Denise Ovcharik, wore a pastel pink floor-length gown. She carried a colonial bouquet and wore a matching headband.

Fred Inglis was best man, while Ernie Allan and Ian Mowat ushered guests to their seats.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at Norway Hall, where 110 guests were received. The mothers of the bride and groom assisted in receiving the guests, Mrs. MacKay wearing a pale blue suit with navy accessories and a white rose corsage, and Mrs. Inglis, in a navy dress with matching accessories and a red and white rose corsage. The bride's maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter T. Jeune, were the first through the receiving line.

Bridal table was arranged with white candles in silver candelabra, flanking the three-tier white and silver wedding cake which stood on a white marble base. Silver cupid pillars separated the tiers and white stand-up flowers of icing decorated the top tier. White carnations were placed on the table.

Alfred Slocumb, uncle of the bride, proposed the toast.

Following the reception, Mrs. Inglis changed into a rosewood colored knitted suit with complementary accessories. She wore a corsage of pale pink roses.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Fred Inglis, Mrs. John MacKay, Mr. Henry MacKay, Mr. and Mrs. P. Henry MacKay, Miss Mary MacKay and Mr. Burgess, of Vancouver; Mrs. Robert Inglis, of Edmonton, Alta.

Japanese Making Sentimental Trip to Homeland

TORONTO (CP)—Fifty-five Japanese-born men and women leave Toronto tonight on a sentimental journey. They are first-generation Japanese-Canadians who arrived in Canada more than 40 years ago, landing at Vancouver. They are going back to their native land on a three-month tour. "We want to take one last look at our old country before we go up to heaven," said Thomas Kadonaga, 62, a member of the group. He is secretary of Toronto Kotobuki Kai, an association formed for Japanese over 61. The title means "the long years." They will fly by chartered plane from Vancouver to Tokyo. Funds for the trip were raised through the help of their children.

Fluoridation Looms in Alberta; 2-Year Study Backs Dental Plan

By DON HANRIGHT

EDMONTON (CP)—The Alberta research council has approved unanimously an "unqualified endorsement" of fluoridation of Alberta's public water supplies.

The council's report, culmination of an exhaustive two-year survey, was issued Saturday by Highways Minister Taylor, council chairman. The main points stressed:

1. The fluoridation proposal calls for the addition of drinking water of only enough fluoride to aid in reducing tooth decay—not enough to be harmful to general health.
2. There is a "great loss by allowing endless investigations to delay the application of fluoridation" as a health measure.
3. It would have no adverse effect on industries.
4. Fluoridation should be started "only as fast as the qualified engineering staff of the provincial health board can provide supervision."

TO DEBATE REPORT

Mr. Taylor commented briefly: "The government does not plan any immediate action on the report."

It has been studied by the provincial cabinet. Copies will be presented to all members of the legislature and the report will be open for debate during the legislative session opening Feb. 17.

The report says the years of research into the possible ill-effects of consumption of fluorides reveals that it is not "in any way harmful to health."

It continues: "This is a most impressive fact, and one which makes it entirely certain that if any untoward effect is ever revealed by future research it will be of a very trivial order."

RISK NEGLIGIBLE

"If such a possibility has to be considered as a calculated risk—or if a risk exists at all—it is so inconspicuous that it has not been revealed by many years of investigation."

Quebec Champ

QUEBEC (CP)—Gaston Amyot, Quebec Jacques Cartier, won the championship of the 42nd Quebec International bonspiel, Saturday, beating Gavin MacWilliam's Quebec Winter Club rink 12-9 in the Lieutenant-Governor's Trophy play-offs.

Martin Hits Protectionism In U.S. Speech

Chambers Sponsor Joint Conference

By GEORGE KITCHEN
WASHINGTON (CP)—Health Minister Paul Martin of Canada told a conference on Canada-United States relations today that Canadians do not think tariffs for the protection of high-cost industries are in the "long-term interests" of either country.

In a passing reference to American proposals to restrict agricultural imports, he said Canada is "naturally disturbed" by any move to keep competitive foreign products out of the U.S. market.

We do not expect the United States to buy Canadian products that are not produced at competitive prices. We do think, however, that it is in our interest as well as our own to buy from the cheapest source and that devices for the protection of high-cost industries are not in the long-term interest of either country."

Martin's remarks were contained in a speech prepared for delivery before a luncheon conference.

IMPROVE UNDERSTANDING

The conference, sponsored by chambers of commerce and the Canada-U.S. committee on education, brought together business and professional leaders of the two countries for two days of discussion on means to improve mutual understanding.

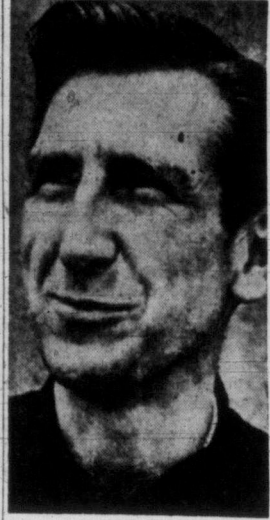

Martin pointed to the harmonious relationships between Canada and the United States during the last 140 years and reviewed the co-operative steps they had taken in economic affairs and joint defense.

Turning to trade, he said the tremendous development taking place in Canada can be successful only if markets can be found, particularly in the United States, for the resources now being exploited.

RCAF Captive of Reds Tells Story of Ordeal

Squadron Leader Andy MacKenzie Writes Exclusive Series for Weekend Magazine

For the first time, Squadron Leader A. R. "Andy" MacKenzie has told the full story of his two-year imprisonment in China.

ANDY MACKENZIE

It will appear exclusively in Weekend Magazine, distributed as part of the Saturday edition of the Victoria Daily Times. The first installment, plus full color photographs and an extraordinary cover portrait, will appear this Saturday. It will be the first of four installments.

He was finally freed on Dec. 5, 1954, after two years' captivity, during which he spent 465 days in solitary confinement. For three months he was not allowed to move off the edge of his bed.

On his return to Canada and his home in Strathmore, outside Montreal, he agreed to tell his full story exclusively for Weekend Magazine.

His complete account of two years' torment in the hands of the Reds is titled "Parachute Into Red Captivity."

How to KEEP FIT after 50

In the old days fifty seemed the signal to slow down—take things easy—watch your diet—get more rest. It's still good advice. But these days you can face fifty with many interesting and active years ahead. Active, that is, if you can avoid backache and the "tired-out" feeling, due to kidney and bladder disorders, that often develop around that age. For more than 60 years Dodd's Kidney Pills have been helping men and women of all ages to keep kidneys and bladder in good order, helping them to feel better, to work better, and get more fun out of life. If you are approaching fifty, or past it, Dodd's Kidney Pills may help you, too. You can depend on Dodd's. 54

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Lt. Col. W. O. Beane said Sunday unusual air currents kept him aloft for 35 minutes after he bailed out of his jet plane Saturday night.

Beane said it was an eerie experience to hang suspended in the clouds, unable to see even the parachute's canopy, for more than half an hour. He said he knew the exact time because he could see his watch.

Col. Beane jumped from his T-33 jet trainer when he ran out of fuel about 20 miles north of here.

Pakistan Republic by Aug. 14; Kenya To Be New Dominion?

KARACHI (Reuters)—Pakistan will become a republic by Aug. 14—eighteenth anniversary of Pakistan's independence—a senior government official said Saturday. The Commonwealth prime ministers' conference in London has approved the change from dominion to republic status within the Commonwealth.

VICTORIA PRESS MEN ROBBED OF $6,000

Daring Girl Reporter Aids Police In Grabbing Stick-Up Suspects

FORMOSA CAPSULE

TAIPEH — Tachens evacuation begins under umbrella of 7th Fleet jets, U.S. Navy says. Red planes conspicuous by absence, but ack-ack on islets north of Tachens fired on U.S. aircraft. Chiang Kai-shek says Tachens withdrawal is "positive preparation for counter attack against Red mainland."

PEIPING — China radio says U.S. aid in Tachens withdrawal is "war provocation... fraught with danger of starting a major war."

LONDON — Chinese Communist envoy interviews India's Nehru for second time in week, presumably about Formosa. Commonwealth premiers resume secret discussions on cease-fire moves. Eden makes new plea to Red China as British diplomatic quarters hint Russian has joined in Commonwealth efforts to bring about an "unwritten" cease-fire.

WASHINGTON — State Secretary Dulles confers repeatedly with President Eisenhower, British and New Zealand ambassadors.

UNITED NATIONS — Security Council starts new round of consultations about cease-fire despite Red China's rejection of New Zealand plan.

Reds Threaten War With U.S. On Evacuation

Armed Provocations Charged by Peiping

LONDON (AP) — Peiping radio said tonight U.S. planes made 28 sorties today and intruded over Yikiangshan, Tachens and other islands and carried out "military provocations."

The radio said the Communist New China news agency was authorized "to declare that... if the U.S. Air Force ventures to intrude into China's territorial air again, the U.S. government must bear all the serious consequences arising therefrom."

By SPENCER MOOSA

TAIPEH (AP) — The evacuation of the Tachens proceeded today under the protection of the U.S. 7th Fleet, whose carrier pilots said they were fired on by Red anti-aircraft guns.

Red torpedo boats cruised 17 miles away but made no attempt to interfere with the task of bringing off 30,000 Nationalist soldiers and civilians. First to leave the imperilled Tachens were civilians, most of whom were on Lower Tachens, the southern island of the group.

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Secretary Dulles told the Senate foreign relations committee today he doubts the Chinese Communists "really intend to wage war against the United States" over Formosa.

Communist artillery pointed at the Tachens from newly-captured Yikiangshan, only eight miles away and hundreds of Russian-built MIG-15 jets were poised on mainland bases but there was no report of interference.

Nationalist press reports said the evacuation of the Yu Shan islands, 35 miles northeast of the Tachens, and Pishan, 32 miles southwest of the Tachens, also had started.

'Bear's Cage' Lures Fed-Up Pinay Back

Former Premier Has Until Thursday To Succeed Defeated Mendes-France

(From CP and UP Dispatches)

PARIS — Antoine Pinay, a Conservative who once said he would "never go back into that bear cage," sought term as French premier.

The powerful Catholic Popular Republican Party refused to support him and it was believed the move may torpedo his chances of becoming premier as effectively as the same party toppled Premier Pierre Mendes-France from office.

The 63-year-old owner of a small-town tannery agreed Sunday night to try to form France's 21st postwar government, succeeding the cabinet of Pierre Mendes-France. Pinay told reporters he hoped to have his list of prospective ministers ready by Thursday.

One of the longer-lived of France's numerous postwar premiers, Pinay headed the government for 9½ months in 1952. He won considerable personal popularity with his "save the franc" fiscal policy, which checked rising prices though it did not solve France's basic economic ills. Facing three confidence votes and considered certain to lose all of them, he resigned Dec. 23, 1952, and vowed never again.

GIVEN FREEDOM OF LONDON

Eloquent PM Stirs Guildhall

LONDON (BUP) — With the time hallowed ceremonial of the heart of the Commonwealth Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent of Canada was today presented with the freedom of the City of London in the historic Guildhall.

It was an occasion carried through with all the tradition, color and panoply of an age long since dead, but which still remains alive here.

Pair Arrested For Daylight Job Two Doors From Bank

More than $6,000 was stolen from Victoria Press employees in a 20-second daylight hold-up outside a grocery store two doors from the Hillside branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia at 9:55 a.m. today. An additional $10,000 was missed.

At press time, two men were being held by police for questioning.

A suspected "get-away" car was followed through city streets by a young member of the Times women's department. She telephoned its license number and route to the police.

Victims of the robbery were Doug Griffith, 23, Victoria Press cashier, and Arnold John, 30, Times circulation clerk. They were carrying three bags containing week-end collections from the Victoria Press office, mostly consisting of carrier receipts, to the Hillside bank branch, about 200 yards away.

Two of the bags contained silver, cash and cheques totaling $6,413. The third contained $10,000 in cheques and currency.

WORE MASKS

As they came abreast of the grocery store, a green Mercury sedan pulled up and parked four feet from the curb. Two men jumped out, both wearing Halloween cardboard masks.

The taller of the two men shoved the barrel of a gun into Griffith's ribs and said "All right, it's have it."

Griffith saw only the barrel of the gun. "I didn't know what was going on," he said. "As soon as they jam a gun in your ribs, you don't worry whether they are kidding or not."

The hold-up men grabbed all three bags. But they threw the one containing $10,000 on the sidewalk, apparently thinking it was empty, jumped in the car, and drove off, turning east on Hillside.

Griffith and John rushed in to the grocery store to phone police.

Dorothy Medrick, 25, clerk in the store, said she was dusting shelves when she saw a car pull up at the curb.

"I thought it was kind of funny the way the car parked," she said. "And then these two guys jumped out. The next thing I knew the two fellows from Victoria Press were running in shouting 'it's a hold-up,' and they phoned the police."

WIRE BRIEFS

Pope to Preside

VATICAN CITY (UP) — Ailing Pope Pius XII plans to preside at an extraordinary meeting of the Sacred Congregation of Rites Feb. 22.

It will be the first time the 78-year-old pontiff has attended a church ceremony since his most recent serious illness began last November.

Soccer Replay Draw

MANCHESTER, Eng. (Reuters) — First Division Aston Villa and Second Division Doncaster Rovers drew their second replay 1-1 here today in the fourth round of the Association Cup.

Plane Policy Changed

TORONTO (BUP) — Ontario hydro chairman Dr. Richard Healey said today the commission would not replace the plane which crashed and killed his predecessor, Robert H. Saunders.

He said Hydro personnel hereafter would fly in commercial planes.

English Cricketers Win

YALLOURN, Australia (Reuters) — The English cricket team touring Australia beat a Victoria county team by an innings and 26 runs here on the final day of the two-day match.

Now they're holdin' up newspapers. All's I kin say is, it's a mighty tough way to git publicity.

Eventually them bandits will be clubbed to death with a dull heavy object—such as an eddy-torial on "Crime Does Not Pay."

One thing about Formosa: It takes two to make peace—but only one to make a war.

GIRL'S STORY

'SEEMS SILLY—BUT I CHASED THEM'

Terry French, 28-year-old girl reporter who has been on The Times staff for just six weeks, plunged into the newspaper business in a big way today when she followed a get-away car suspected in today's robbery. Here is her first person account of the chase through city streets.

Well, as blue Mondays go, this one was typical! I could think of nothing to liven up the day.

At 10 a.m. I left Victoria Press to go "Penny Saving" in my little "bumble-bee" (that's by '48 Austin Coach).

Suddenly, as I rounded the corner at Hillside and Douglas, I noticed a "suspicious" character getting into a double-parked light green Mercury.

He was carrying an odd-shaped bundle and was wearing a mask.

My imagination went to work. "Ah, bank robbers," I thought, "Thrills! Excitement!"

The car with two men in it passed me on the corner turning on to Hillside Avenue and although it seemed a little silly, I followed it.

Up Hillside to Wark Street, along Wark to Kings Road to Blanshard and finally to Arena Way.

TAILED CLOSELY

My little "bumble-bee" tailed them closely right up to Arena Way. I was never more than a block away from them.

At Arena Way, one of the men got out to change into the maroon car.

Apparently it had been parked on the boulevard, where so many hockey fans park, as a second "get-away" car.

I turned around, headed north, and waited at the intersection of Caledonia, as this was the only way they could have come—it's a one-way street and their car was headed out that way.

The maroon car passed me at the intersection and went up Caledonia to Quadra, and I followed.

He was driving carefully, as if to appear like a "normal" driver.

Hold-Up Took Place in Full View of Bus Travelers; One Took Getaway Car License

This morning's armed hold-up of two Victoria Press employees occurred before the amazed eyes of a busload of inbound passengers.

The 9:50 Burnside-Tillikum bus was coming around the Hillside Roundabout, turning on to Douglas Street when Mrs. J. G. Berryman, a school teacher at Cloverdale School, was the first to see the hold-up.

Mrs. Berryman told The Times "Just as we made the turn, my eyes were caught by a man wearing a bright orange mask. I shouted 'hold-up' and all the passengers looked out the windows of the bus."

"I saw the man with the mask come around in front of a parked car carrying a big brown canvas bag that looked like the kind of bag you carry water in."

"One of the women in the bus wrote down the license number of the car and another passenger, a man, got out and telephoned the police."

"I thought the bus driver could have stopped the men by blocking their car with the bus but he said he was worrying about the safety of the passengers in case the robbers should start shooting at us."

HUTCHISON FROM WASHINGTON

Ike's Power 'Frightening'

By BRUCE HUTCHISON
Editor of Victoria Daily Times

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The gulf between the British and the American systems of government never loomed wider than it does today. But it is a gulf of systems, not of policies or personalities.

Into the hands of President Eisenhower alone the American people have lately committed what the Founding Fathers called, their lives, their fortunes and their sacred honor. True enough, that commitment is partly inherent in the constitution, but the constitution permits only the Congress to declare war. By almost unanimous vote of both houses Mr. Eisenhower has been given specific power to make war in Asia, declared or undeclared.

No nation under the British system would ever grant such unlimited power to any single man. A British or a Canadian prime minister must carry his cabinet with him, and the cabinet must carry the parliament. If a prime minister could not secure this support he would certainly be dismissed from office on an issue of life and death like the current crisis of Formosa.

Mr. Eisenhower, on the other hand, can do as he chooses, can decide whether to fight, when to fight and where to fight, and there is no power in the land, none, that can stop him.

The Congress cannot control his actions as they are taken. The cabinet here is not a body of equals or even the maker of policy but a group of non-elected advisers to whom the president may listen or not, as he pleases.

'Grim, Drawn'

To anyone living under the British system therefore, the present concentration of power in one man, at a moment of supreme world crisis, is rather terrifying. Yet it is accepted almost without question in the United States—almost but not quite.

The Senate gave a blank cheque in Asia to the President with only three dissenting votes, but among the Democrats at least, some men voted with grave misgivings. Nevertheless they voted because, in this almost unprecedented dilemma, they could not bring themselves to divide the nation before the world. Thus the vast pyramid of power was finally built with the President at the apex.

Nothing of that sort has happened in Britain since James II was hurled from the throne or in Canada since the days of Lord Durham.

And thereby hangs a master piece of paradox and irony. In public theory the American
